Local crow tests positive

West Nile Virus found

By SHAWN P. SULLIVAN

WILMINGTON - Has the notorious West Nile Virus come to Wilmington?

There has not been any concrete evidence of any presence of the virus within the town's official borders, but some cases have been reported in the neighboring communities of Tewksbury and Billerica.

In fact, just last week a dead crow was found near the border of Wilmington on Nichols Road in Tewksbury. The dead bird was submitted for testing by Director Tom Carbone of the Tewksbury Board of Health. Sure enough, the returning results did establish that the fallen crow was carrying the West Nile Virus.

The virus, which has been grabbing headlines throughout the Northeast all summer long, tends to be carried by a breed of bird-biting mosquitoes classified as "Culex restuans."

The Central Massachusetts Mosquito Control Project (CMMCP), which has been routinely spraying larvicide across the town of Wilmington throughout the summer, responded immediately to the dead crow on Nichols Road. On the night of Friday, September 1, three CMMCP trucks spent as many as four hours spraying for mosquitoes in a radius around Nichols Road that encompassed a mile and a half.

According to Tim Deschamps, the Assistant Superintendent at CMMCP, streets and neighborhoods surrounding the Silver Lake area in Wilmington were included in that radius.

"We've been spraying those areas regularly throughout the summer," says Deschamps. "When we sprayed on Friday night, it was in response to the crow that was found on Nichols Road earlier in the week."

While Deschamps does advise Wilmington residents to exercise caution and common sense, he characterizes the West Nile Virus threat in Wilmington as "low."

Nonetheless, Greg Erickson, the Director of the Wilmington Department of Public Health, wishes to make clear that the situation is to be regarded seriously.

"Tewksbury and Billerica are our surrounding communities," says Erickson. "Anything about the West Nile Virus that is reported in our area is to be considered a threat to Wilmington."

There are many steps that one can take to protect oneself and one's family from the threat of possibly being stung by infected mosquitoes.

For starters, says Erickson, "It's very important to get rid of any standing pools of water around your house that may be a place where mosquitoes can breed."

Such pools of water can be found in a number of places. It is important to check such unsuspecting spots as the inside of tires that you may have in storage. Toys, such as those miniature cars that children like to drive in, should also be checked for pools

A SHAME. Unfortunately, the park at Silver lake was vandalized recently. The park, which the Wilmington Kiwanis Club built in 1998, cost approximately $24,000 to build. That dollar figure pales when it's converted to the energy and the sweat and the good will that it took to build. "We put our heart and soul into building that park," says Kiwanis member Rick Fudge. "To see someone do something like this is a disgrace." (Stu Neilson photo)

Petition P Drug Initiative

Coakley takes it to the Supreme Court

By SHAWN P. SULLIVAN

WILMINGTON/TEWKSURY - Here comes another round in the match between those who oppose the controversial drug policy initiative called Petition P and those who favor it.

On Thursday, September 7, Middlesex District Attorney Martha Coakley will stand before the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court in Pemberton Square in Boston and argue against the drug law ballot question. District Attorney Coakley will be representing the opposition to the petition, which includes her ten other fellow Massachusetts District Attorneys.

The initiative, which will appear as "Question 8" on the state-wide ballot in November, is viewed by the District Attorneys to be unconstitutional in that it would dramatically alter the Commonwealth's drug laws if enacted.

This is not District Attorney Coakley's first time speaking out against the petition. In July, Coakley and Wilmington and Tewksbury Chiefs of Police Bobby Stewart and John Mackey met with representatives from the Coalition for Fair Treatment to debate the initiative during a Town Crier-sponsored round table discussion. The coalition is sponsoring the initiative's push here in Massachusetts.

If passed, Petition P would bring a series of changes to the manner with which the drug war is fought in Wilmington and Tewksbury and the state of Massachusetts. One such change would call for a shift in drug forfeiture funds from the police departments to the Department of Public Health. Another change would incorporate a three-strikes policy that would grant offenders two attempts at rehabilitation before facing prosecution for the third time that they are caught dealing or using drugs.

Proponents for Petition P, such as those members from the Coalition for Fair Treatment, call the endeavor one of "basic fairness."

Opponents of Petition P see the initiative as a slickly-packaged push to give narcotics dealers and users the upper hand in the war on drugs.

Juvenile Court finds a new home

By PAMELA MIETH

WOBURN - The juvenile court in Woburn, which serves Wilmington and several of its surrounding communities, will soon have a new home.

Last week, Kevin Flanagan, the spokesman for the Division of Capital Assessment Management (DCAM), confirmed that the new location will be 2 Tower Office Park, which can be found off of Washington Street in East Woburn.

Currently, the juvenile court is located within the Woburn District Courthouse at 30 Pleasant Street in Woburn.

The juvenile court's eventual relocation is due in large part to space needs at Woburn District Court. There is also a state-wide effort to house juvenile justice services together as a unit.

Two years ago, it seemed as though the old National Guard armory on Main Street might have been used for the new juvenile court facility. The idea, however, was greeted with much opposition from neighbors and families who have children attending the nearby St. Charles School.

According to Flanagan, in December of 1999 the state had received two responses to its requests for proposals. One proposed location for the juvenile court was 2 Office Tower Park. The other suggested location was 12 Gill Street. Both locations are owned by Cummings Properties.

Both locations were evaluated for their potential. Visits were also made to both sites. Flanagan says that the final decision to move the juvenile court to 2 Office Tower Park was made on

BLOWING THE ROOF OFF THE PLACE. Well, okay, it's more like pushing the roof off the place. On Tuesday, September 5, Miguel Malla worked hard at shovelling the shingles off the roof of the VFW post that will soon be torn down on Main Street in Wilmington. His foreman, who wished only to identify himself as "Jay," looks on. Malla and "Jay" belong to Access, an Asbestos Containment Service in Quincy. The VFW post is being torn down to make way for the MBTA parking lot that will be built in its place. (Maureen Lamoureux photo)

It's YOUR Money
by Joyce Brisbois

WHAT WILL YOU DO WITH YOUR 401(K)?

It's easy to start a 401(k) account. Your employer may offer it, perhaps with a matching contribution as a sweetener, and the money goes in automatically, before you even miss it. But when you retire or even change jobs, it's not so easy. There may be hundreds of thousands of dollars involved, and there are options.

One option-and a bad one-is to just cash out your lump sum. It will cost you income taxes on the money, plus a 10 percent penalty (under age 59 1/2), and future tax-deferral. Better: leave the money where it is or roll it over to a new 401(k). These plans have some advantages: you can borrow against them, and the funds are exempt from creditors. An IRA, however, offers more investment options and greater control. Whatever you choose, make sure the rollover is direct, trustee to trustee, to avoid withholding.

If your 401(k) includes a chunk of company stock, you may be able to lower your eventual tax bill with an "in-kind" distribution.

Big decisions should be based on good advice. That's what you get from the tax-and-finance professionals at

...From the Editor's Desk

The other side of the coin needs a name

It was reported here at the Town Crier that the first day of school in Wilmington was a success. We did, however, receive a letter this week in which its writer begged to differ.

Last week, we encouraged our readers to take a pen in hand and drop us a line any time. Sure enough, we got a few more letters to the editor this week than we have in recent memory.

There was only one problem. One letter, in which criticisms were aimed at the school bus transportation service here in Wilmington, was not signed by name. Instead, it was cryptically signed "a Frustrated Bus Driver."

It was a well-written letter, filled with examples of the writer's frustration. It was clearly an important letter to the individual who wrote it, for it was two pages long, with the word "frustrated" written and underlined at the top of the front page. The very first sentence of this letter read "This is to let the people of Wilmington know that not everything went smooth as far as (the) opening day of school was concerned." The letter elaborated further with tales of school bus drivers who were confused about the bus routes, and so on.

The letter was delivered to us through our mailbox, sealed in an envelope with only our newspaper's name furiously scribbled on it.

We've read the letter, but we have decided not to print it just yet. It seems to us to be a letter that would generate a number of responses, none of which we could address without credibly citing the source of the letter.

It is easy to understand why "Frustrated" decided not to sign his or her name. There's a lot at stake for someone who speaks out against the company or business or system for which he or she works. All the same, if "Frustrated" is serious about having his or her opinion expressed, we invite him or her to give us a call at 658-2346. We would like to give this individual a public forum for his or her constructive criticism, especially if doing so could lead to further discussion, but we need a name first. If requested, we can most certainly withhold from publishing the name at the end of the letter.

Bloodmobile coming to Wilmington Monday

WILMINGTON - The American Red Cross is asking all eligible blood donors in the Wilmington area to give blood on Monday, September 11, 2000 when the bloodmobile comes to the United Methodist Church, 87 Church Street. Donor hours are 3 to 8 p.m.

According to Cathy Pray, director, "Only five out of every 100 people give blood, and the number of new donors decreased dramatically last year. First time donors are urgently needed to replace donors who have moved away or become ineligible to donate."

The best way to give blood for the first time is to come with a friend who is experienced in the donation process. New donors usually find the procedure easy and painless and most will come back regularly to donate. "The biggest obstacle seems to be overcoming that initial fear," said Cathy. "That's why we're counting on our regular donors to help by bringing a friend to this blood drawing."

Most people can give blood through the American Red Cross. Potential donors must be at least 17 years of age, in good health and weigh over 110 pounds. In most cases, donors may give if they are on medication, but should know the names of these medications.

For more information, call the American Red Cross at 1-800-448-3543.

Backyard trampolines can be hazardous

BURLINGTON - Although the sport of trampolining makes its official Olympic debut in Sydney, Australia this month, Lahey Clinic physicians have raised concerns about trampoline safety for backyard amateurs.

"The athletes competing in Sydney have trained and practiced for years and are experienced gymnasts with coaches backing them up," says Orthopedic Surgeon David J. Fehnel, MD, who specializes in sports medicine at Lahey Clinic in Burlington. "Children jumping on backyard trampolines, however, have had little experience or guidance when it comes to trampoline training and safety. I would caution parents about purchasing a backyard trampoline or letting children use one."

The American Academy of Pediatrics has held a position against backyard trampolines since 1977. According to U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission surveys, about 83,000 people, mostly children, are injured every year on trampolines.

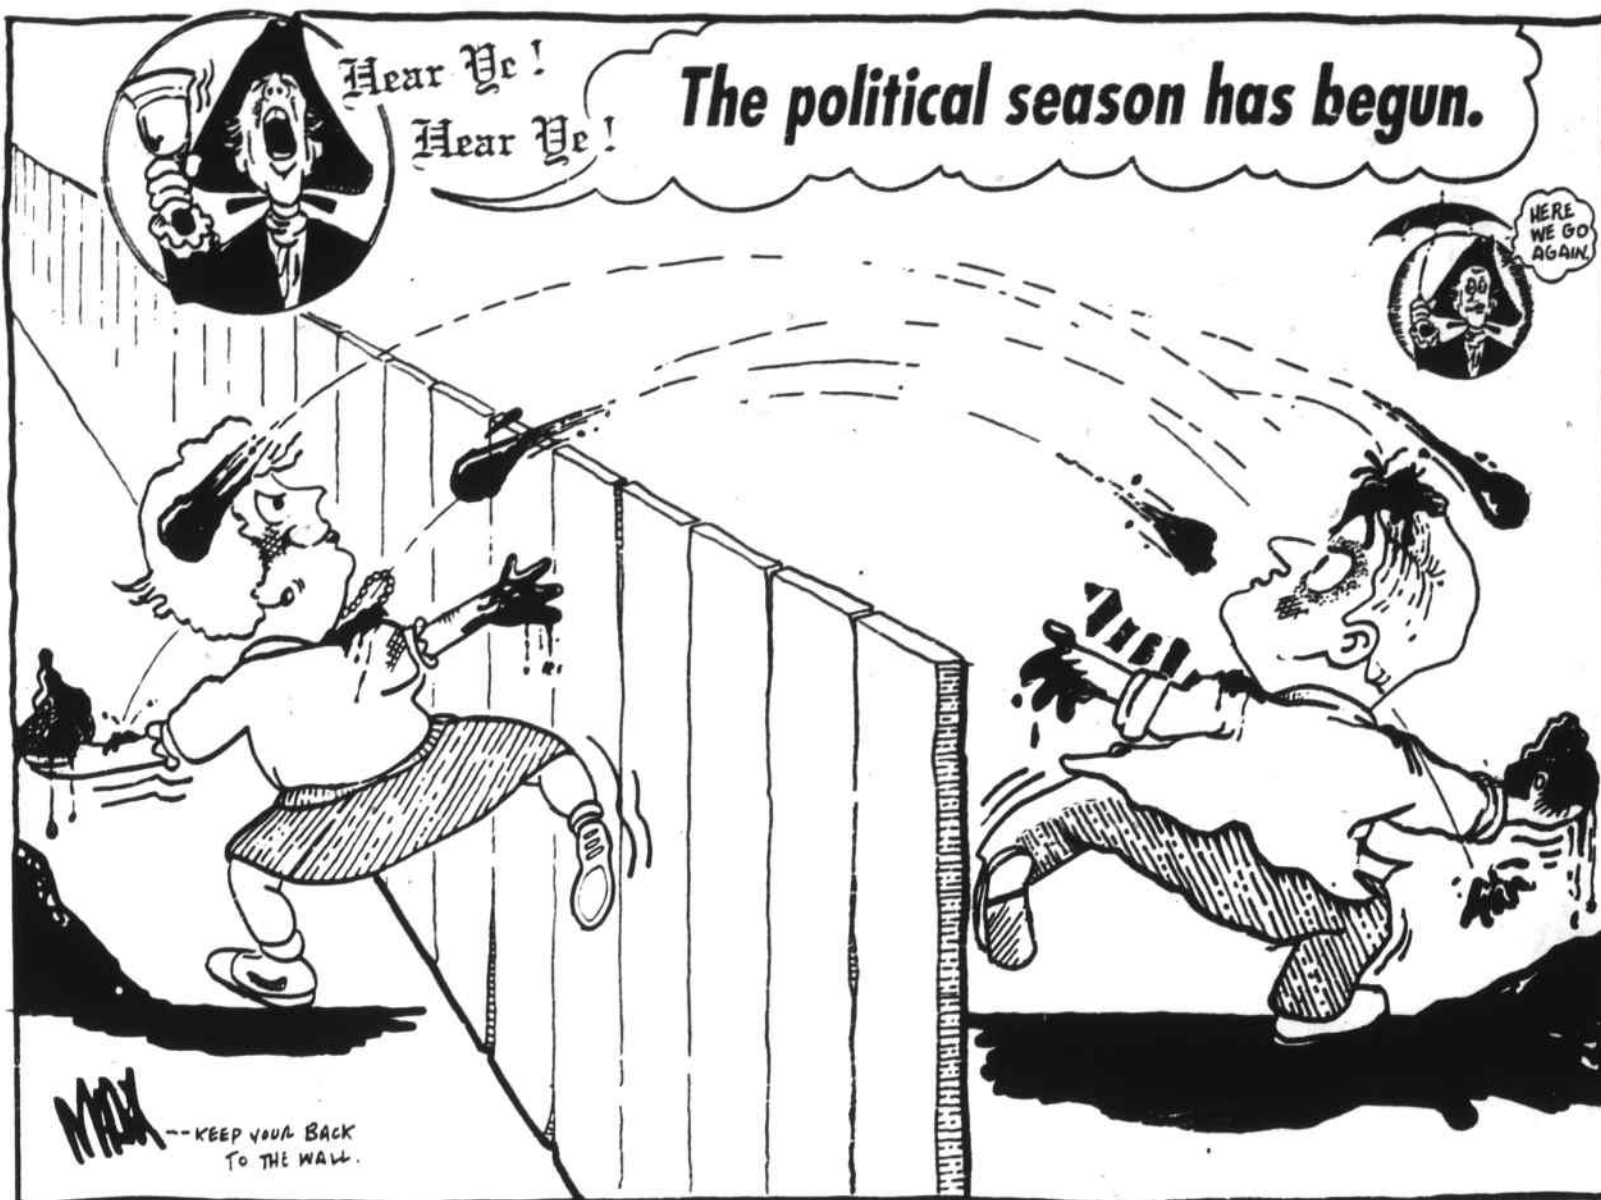

Spinal cord injuries are the most serious injuries children sustain as a result of jumping on trampolines, but bone fractures or dislocations are the most common. Other common injuries include sprained ankles and wrists, cuts and bruises.

"While having spotters and/or adult supervision around a backyard trampoline can decrease the number of injuries, often times injuries occur while an adult is watching," notes Fehnel. "Many injuries, such as neck fractures, occur in the middle of the mat when children land incorrectly. A parent or a spotter cannot prevent bad landings and resulting injuries."

If you do allow your children to jump on a trampoline, you may be able to reduce their risk of injury by enforcing the following U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission recommendations:

- * Allow only one person on the trampoline at a time
- * Do not allow somersaults
- * Do not allow a trampoline to be used without the shock absorbing pads that completely cover the springs, hooks and frame
- * Place the trampoline away from structures and other play areas.
- * Always supervise kids to make sure the above rules are enforced.

The story of the veterans of the Korean War from Wilmington

Dear Editor:

Seeing my "latest" copy of the Town Crier I was interested to find a story on the veterans of the Korean War. It brought back my own memories of those days. At that time Wilmington had only about 30 percent of the population it has today, so every person virtually knew everybody in town. And one day, November 22, 1952, all were shocked when seven youths received draft notices!

Now remember, the senior class at that time graduated about 60 individuals, of whom less than half were male and less than two dozen eligible for draft induction. This is not counting those who enlisted in the Navy, Air Force, etc., so taking seven men in one day was quite an event. It was virtually a year's quota!

So the town of Wilmington gave a dinner and farewell party for us at George's Restaurant (See the enclosed newspaper articles from the Wilmington Crusader.) The seven inductees were Richard Palmer, 180 Main Street, Paul Berrigan of 879 Main Street, Richard Pilcher of Brand Avenue, Donald O'Connell of 5 Hunt Road, Gerald O'Reilly of Clyde Avenue, Paul Sheehan of 859 Main Street and Willis Whalen of Taplin Avenue. I don't know if the town gave us this send-off because it was sad to see us go or glad to be rid of us! But for some strange reason, no two of us were sent to the same outfit for basic training. We were split up and I've often wondered if that was done on purpose or just a coincidence.

I served with 7th Infantry Division in Korea and one day found out that Donald O'Connell was in the 3rd Division about 50 miles away. So I went AWOL (which was an Army way of life for me; I even went AWOL to get married!) and visited him. Now in those years we had Huntley's Lunch, a diner in Wilmington center noted for its coffee. Even the "express" trains from NH heading to Boston would stop, the crew would run across the street, fill up huge thermos' and run back to the train! So while I visited Donald O'Connell another Wilmington youth was there. Ronnie Kelly, who lived off of Cottage Street, near the Lake. (see enclosed snapshot). While we talked the Company CO stopped, and finding that we were all from the same small town, asked what we missed most about our hometown. Without hesitation we all said "a cup of Huntley's coffee! I had no knowledge of the others from the original seven until I was on board the troopship heading home in 1954. Then Dick Palmer and I met each other and we stayed together on the two-week ships crossing, the five days on a troop train from Tacoma, Washington and the "red eye" milk train run from New York to Wilmington. It was always great to have a companion but actually, seeing as we were heading home, it seemed our thoughts were on renewing relationships rather than anything else.

Thanks for your news article, which brought back these memories and gave me the incentive to write. We were a close town in those days and there are dozens of stories like this waiting to be told.

Sincerely,
Will Whalen,
San Antonio, FL.

MDA thanks you

I knew we could count on the wonderful folks of Wilmington! Thank you for helping the Jerry Lewis MDA Telethon raise a record $54,610,289 in pledges and contributions.

Hundreds of celebrities and nearly a million volunteers worked Labor Day weekend to help "my kids." Yet, all our hats are off to you Wilmington residents for phoning in pledges to the Telethon on WCVB-TV, for supporting fire fighter "Fill-the-Boot" drives and other local MDA events. Your caring gives tremendous support to children and adults in Massachusetts and to families across the country.

Thanks to you, MDA maintains 230 clinics, including the clinics at Massachusetts General Hospital, at the New England Medical Center Hospital, at Brigham & Women's Hospital, and at Children's Hospital, all in Boston, as well as MDA clinics in Burlington, at Tobey Hospital in Wareham, and at the University of Massachusetts Medical Center and St. Vincent Hospital, both in Worcester. These havens of help are staffed by top medical experts dedicated to giving life-enhancing care to people challenged by muscle-wasting diseases.

Thanks to you, MDA will continue to accelerate worldwide research seeking treatments and cures for devastating neuromuscular disorders which affect people of all ages, both sexes and every nationality. You'll be interested to know that the breakthroughs being pioneered by MDA investigators may also soon lead to therapies for heart disease, cancer, AIDS, Alzheimer's, Huntington's, Parkinson's, and cystic fibrosis.

For more information or to get involved, call your local MDA office at (781) 575-1887, MDA national headquarters at (800) 572-1717, or visit www.mdausa.org.

Sincerely,
Bob Mackle

Softball for Independence

Dear Captain Stu and valued members of the Town Crier Easter Seals Softball Team.

Thanks so much for all of your hard work out on the softball field and in your fundraising efforts! You truly are making a difference!

The money raised during Softball for Independence helps fund the many programs and services Easter Seals provides for people with disabilities and is greatly appreciated!

The Town Crier team has done a phenomenal job this year! I hope there will be many more to come! I look forward to meeting you all in person at our next event.

Thanks again for all of your hard work and best wishes!

Warm regards
Heather Burnap

WILMINGTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Garden Club kicks off fall season

WILMINGTON - The Wilmington Garden Club will open its fall season on Thursday, September 14, 2000, at 7:30 in the Fourth of July Building. The evening's program will be the "Middlesex Canal- Past and Future." It will be presented by Betty M. Bigwood, Wilmington's representative to the Middlesex Canal Commission. A fact to be presented about the canal is that 3.8 miles of the canal were located in Wilmington. We are fortunate to still have long stretches of the canal still present. We also have a great great granddaughter of a canal lock keeper still residing in Wilmington. If you are interested in learning about the Wilmington Garden Club or the Middlesex Canal, please join us for this evening's program. For more information, call (978) 658-4585.

Absentee ballots now available

WILMINGTON - Absentee ballots are now available for the State Primary to be held Tuesday, September 19, 2000. One may make application and vote in person during regular office hours at the Town Clerk's Office 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. until noon the day before Election Monday, September 18.

A ballot may also be requested by mail or fax, and a relative may request a ballot on behalf of a voter. These require a request in writing sent to the Town Clerk.

If you are an unenrolled voter, party must be designated. Any questions about absentee ballots, call the office at 658-2030 or fax 978-658-3334.

Workshop on centering prayer

TEWKSBURY - A workshop on centering prayer, conducted by Fr. Bill Sheehan, OMI, (former provincial of the Oblates of Mary Immaculate and presently director of the Oblate seminarians in Chicago), will take place Saturday, September 9, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the lower church at St. William's, 1351 Main St., Tewksbury.

Through a method of experience, clarification and input, Fr. Sheehan will help participants to experience centering prayer and provide the necessary conceptual background, rooted in the Christian tradition, which supports the centering prayer experience.

Cost of the workshop is $10. Take a lunch. For more information and reservations contact St. William's rectory at 978-851-7331.

Mothers & More open house

TEWKSBURY - Mothers & More (formerly FEMALE) will host their annual open house Wednesday, September 13, 7:30 p.m. at Tewksbury State Hospital.

Mothers & More supports women who have altered their career paths in order to care for their children at home. The Merrimack Valley Chapter offers meetings twice a month, with topical discussions, guest speakers, kids' activities, playgroups, mom's night out, craft night, movie night, and book club.

For more information contact Amy at 978-851-8501 or Kelley at 978-851-3702.

Tewksbury Food Pantry distribution Sept. 10

TEWKSBURY - The Tewksbury Community Pantry will be open for food distribution on Sunday, September 10 from 9 a.m. to noon; on Monday, September 11 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. and on Saturday, September 16 from 10 a.m. to noon.

Tewksbury residents and people referred by Tewksbury clergy may call 978-858-2273 for assistance (leave a message). The Pantry is located at 999 Whipple Road at the intersection of Pine Street.

Pack 56 is inviting boys to join Cub Scouts

WILMINGTON - Do you want your son to grow up to be self-reliant, dependable, and caring? Is it important to you that he learns traditional values such as honesty, trustworthiness, and respect for others and the environment?

If you answered "yes" to either of these questions, then you should check out what Cub Scouting has to offer boys in first through fifth grades. Pack 56, chartered by the Congregational Church, joins with America's favorite cool cat Garfield to invite you and your son to become a part of one of America's leading values driven organizations.

The Cub Scout program is a valuable resource that can help families accomplish worthy goals while building and strengthening relationships within the family.

Pack 56 will be having a registration night Monday, September 18, at the Congregational Church from 5:30 to 7 p.m. and all newly registered Scouts are welcome to stay for the Pack meeting which will immediately follow at seven o'clock. Registration fee is $25. For more information contact Christina Buffa (978) 657-5091.

Shriners present

New England Cowboy photo contest

WILMINGTON - Have you ever been accused of being a New England cowboy or do you just look like one? In preparation for the upcoming Shriners' Rodeo of Champions weekend the Aleppo Shrine in Wilmington, has announced its first ever New England Cowboy photo contest.

Folks from all over the northeast are encouraged to take a 3 x 5 photo or larger of themselves or their children in their best western garb. The photos will be judged in the following categories:

Best Adult New England Cowboy (21 or older)

Best Adult New England Cowgirl (21 or older)

Best Young Adult New England Cowboy (13 to 20 years old)

Best Young Adult New England Cowgirl (13 to 20 years)

Best Child New England Cowboy (infant to 12 years old)

Best Child New England Cowgirl (infant to 12 years old)

Best New England Cow Family

Best New England Cow Pet

Winners will be chosen by the reigning Miss Rodeo USA, Marjon

Brady of Mesa, Arizona, during the week of September 18. Winners will be notified by mail. Please write on the back of your entry: your name, address, day and evening phone numbers and the category you wish to enter.

Winners in each category will receive four tickets to a rodeo event of their choice:

September 23 or 24, the Rodeo of Champions; September 29, 30 or October 1, the IPRA NE Regional Finals. Many of the photo entries will be displayed at the Shriner's Auditorium during the rodeo events.

Mail your entry to: New England Cowboy Photo Contest, c/o Shriner's Auditorium, P.O. Box 1008, Wilmington, MA 01887-0578. All entries must be received by September 15, 2000. Sorry, no photos will be returned. All photos will become property of the Shriners' Auditorium.

Call 1-800-50-RODEO for Rodeo tickets and information. Also, don't miss the USA vs Brazil World Cup Bull Riding Event Friday September 22 at 8 p.m. Order tickets now!

Introductory lesson in embroidery offered

TEWKSBURY - Tablet weaving and finger-loop braiding, taught by Susan Andrews will be offered by the Merrimack Valley Chapter of the Embroiderers' Guild of America, Inc. during a workshop scheduled for Tuesday, September 17 at 7 p.m. in Tewksbury Congregational Church, Main and East Streets.

Learn how to create braids and bands to embellish stitching projects. With the right weight of threads, these techniques can even be used to create interesting threads to use for stitching. The class is intended as an introduction and is suited to beginners.

The cost of $7 includes a kit containing rayon and metallic threads to create some elegant braids and a narrow woven band. It also includes basic tools for simple tablet weaving and some aids to simplify getting it set up.

To register, send name, address, and telephone number, and a check in the amount of $18 made payable to Merrimack Valley Chapter EGA to: Pat Timpanaro, 41 East Highland Ave., Melrose, MA 02176. Pre-registration is required, with a deadline of September 19, 2000.

The Embroiderers' Guild of America, Inc. is a non-profit educational organization dedicated to the teaching and preservation of needlework as an art form. For more information about this workshop, please call Pat Timpanaro at 781-665-4118. For information about joining the Merrimack Valley Chapter and participating in its educational activities, please call Jane McCord at 781-942-1349.

A PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

(never known to fail)

O Most beautiful Flower of Mount Carmel, Fruitful Vine, Splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this my request. O Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother.

O Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart, to succor me in this request; there are none that can withstand your power.

O, show me herein you are my Mother. O Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to Thee. (3 times)

Sweet Mother, I place this request in your hands. (3 times)

Being here and being there...

Here and there.

Here is Wilmington and Tewksbury.

There is the State House in Boston.

It's a fine line between spending time at home listening and responding to the local concerns and spending time in Boston making sure that Wilmington and Tewksbury get their fair share of local aid and special funds.

Jim Miceli has consistently been able to do both.

At home, Jim has been lauded by elders, praised by special needs advocates, respected by educators, and warmly received by community leaders.

At the State House, Jim has been recognized for his advocacy of his district, his tough stance against taxes, his aggressiveness for our elders and children, and his development of an intern program for students anxious to learn about state government.

Jim has an opponent in the Sept. 19th primary and would appreciate your support.

Richard P. Howe, Jr., a candidate for re-nomination and resident of 130 Westview Road in Lowell, is seeking the post of Register of Deeds.

Candidates who are hoping to challenge Republican candidate Johnson for the position of Register of Probate are plenty: Dean J. Bruno, of 30 Franklin Avenue in Medford; John R. Buonomo, of 145 Central Street in Somerville; Thomas B. Concannon, Jr., of 8 Bacon Road in Newton; Tara DeCristofaro, of 30 Summit Road in Medford; Francis X. Flaherty, of 149 Woodside Lane in Arlington; Melissa J. Hurley, of 125

Hampshire Street in Cambridge; Robert Wesley Keough, of 8 Brookdale Circle in Billerica; L. Paul Lucero, of 74 Willow Street in Woburn; and Ed McMahon, of 120 Wyman Street in Lowell.

• THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY. PRECINCTS 1, 2, 4, 5, 6. Incumbent Representative James R. Miceli, of 11 Webber Street in Wilmington, is seeking to keep his seat at the state house for another term. Tewksbury resident Salvatore P. Marino, of 34 Brookfield Road, is hoping to unseat him.

Beyond that mentioned above, the ballot for these precincts coincide with that for Precinct 3.

• THE LIBERTARIAN PARTY. Carla A. Howell, of 6 Goodman

Lane in Wayland, is seeking a seat in the United States Senate.

Absentee ballots are now available for the State Primary. You may obtain an application and cast your vote between the hours of 8:30am and 4:30pm at the Town Clerk's Office at the Town Hall at 121 Glen Road. There is, however, a deadline before which you can do so: Noontime, on Monday, September 18.

You may also request a ballot by mail or by fax, and a relative is allowed to request one on your behalf. Please give your relative a written letter of request to hand in to the Town Clerk upon collecting your ballot.

If you are an unenrolled voter, then you must first designate yourself to a party.

The Town Clerk's Office also wishes to remind you that the town now has three polling locations:

• PRECINCTS 1 and 2: Voting will take place at the West Intermediate School on Carter Lane.

• PRECINCTS 3 and 4: Voting will take place at the Wildwood Street School.

• PRECINCTS 5 and 6: Voting will take place at the Town Hall. Polls will be open between 7am and 8pm on September 19.

Any questions? That is, aside from "Who should I vote for?" Please feel free to call the Town Clerk's Office at 658-2030.

Thursday, August 3.

According to Flanagan, the four-story building will be occupied by other tenants. However, the juvenile court facility will be provided with its own entrance.

Flanagan assures that traffic matters at the new location will be addressed alongside with the juvenile court's usual functions.

There's still a ways to go before this new juvenile court is open for business.

Says Flanagan, "We expect to occupy the premises as of March 1, 2001."

The state will have a 15-year lease at the site, which encompasses 17,600 feet.

In addition to Wilmington, Woburn District Court, which is formally known as the Fourth District Court of Eastern Middlesex, serves the towns of Burlington, Reading, Stoneham, and Winchester.

of water and drained if some are found. If in your back yard you have a gym set, in which the swings have curved, plastic seats, then it is a good idea to keep them dry. Water in bird-baths and kiddie pools should be frequently changed, as well.

The Massachusetts Department of Public Health (MDPH) also wishes to educate the public about a number of steps that can be taken to eliminate potential mosquito breeding spots and fight off the chances of being stung:

- Stay indoors when mosquito activity is noticeable.
- Wear shoes, socks, long pants and long-sleeved shirts. With the cooler weather lately, the majority of us have been doing that already.

- If, when outdoors, you do find yourself being swarmed by mosquitoes, make sure to use a repellent that contains DEET. Make sure to follow the manufacturer's recommendations and instructions.

- Check the condition of the screen doors and windows at your house.

- Finally, if you spot a dead bird on the ground, please call the Department of Public Health at 658-3311. (Fourteen dead birds that were infected with the virus were found throughout the Commonwealth between August 24 and August 28. Twelve of them were crows, one was a raven, and another was a chickadee.)

While three dead crows have been found in Billerica, the MDPH wishes to assure area residents that the one infected bird that was found in Tewksbury does not mark a cause for alarm.

According to the MDPH, "Because it is later in the mosquito season, there is less time for virus build-up in the mosquito-bird transmission cycle. A finding of a single West Nile Virus-positive bird in an area is not an indication of a significant risk of transmission of the virus to people."

Indeed, while there have been reports in New York of six cases of virus-infected people, there have been none reported in Massachusetts and its neighboring state of Connecticut.

The CMMCP will resume its regular mosquito-spraying schedule in Wilmington on Thursday, September 7, Wednesday, September 13, and Thursday, September 14.

Beyond these dates, the criteria by which the CMMCP will spray throughout the town will be determined by the weather. The rate of mosquitoes breeding and buzzing throughout the area will decrease sharply as temperatures settle down into cooler climates.

"There's no reason to panic," assures Deschamps. "We will continue to spray regularly. If the West Nile Virus shows up in town, then there are procedures that we can follow to stop it."

Obituaries

William A. Amato, 67

Assistant Supervisor at Ametek

William A. Amato, age 67, of Wilmington, formerly of the North End, died on September 5 at the Winchester Hospital in Winchester.

Mr. Amato was the beloved son of the late Victor and the late Marie Anna (Colucci) Amato. He had lived in the North End for the majority of his life, having moved to Wilmington 32 years ago. Prior to retirement, Mr. Amato was employed as an Assistant Supervisor for Ametek, formerly General Electric, in Wilmington.

Mr. Amato is survived by his sister, Dorothy Magliano, and her husband, John, both of Wilmington, and his nieces and nephews, Vicki and Rob Riccio, of Wilmington; Joseph and Rhonda Szymanski, of Saugus; John and Debra Magliano, of Upton; and Jim and Beth Magliano, of Wilmington. Mr. Amato was also the brother of the late Camille Szymanski, of Wilmington.

His funeral will be held at the W.S. Cavanaugh & Son Funeral Home, 374 Main Street (Route 38) in Wilmington on Friday morning at 8:45, followed by a Funeral Mass at St. Dorothy's Church at 10:00.

Friends may call on Thursday from 4 to 9 p.m. Interment will take place in the family lot at Wildwood Cemetery in Wilmington. Addition Info: Legacy.com

Adeline DeCosta, 77

She was a communicant at St. William's Church

TEWKSBURY - Adeline (DeBarcellos) DeCosta, 77, died Wednesday afternoon at Winchester Hospital. She was the wife of the late John J. DeCosta, who died in 1996.

She was born in Cambridge, a daughter of Manuel and Felesimina (Costa) DeBarcellos. She was raised in Cambridge and lived in Wilmington before moving to Tewksbury in 1985. For the past year, she had been in residence at Sunbridge Nursing Care Center in Wilmington.

As a Tewksbury resident, she was a communicant of St. William's Church.

Mrs. DeCosta was active at the Tewksbury Senior Drop-in Center and was a member of the Tewksbury Golden Age Club. She enjoyed crochet, plastic canvas, poker, whist and cribbage.

She is survived by two daughters and sons-in-law, Phyllis and Roland Barry, with whom she had lived while residing in Tewksbury, and Paige and William Seward, of Centerville, Cape Cod; a sister-in-law, Christine (DeCosta) Barcellos, of Wilmington; two granddaughters, Amanda Barry and Taylor

Seward; and several nieces and nephews.

She was also the sister of the late Frank Barcellos and Mary McCabe.

Her funeral Mass was held on Saturday, September 2, in St. William's Church, followed by interment in Wildwood Cemetery in Wilmington.

Memorials to the Tewksbury Friends of the Elderly, Building Fund, 175 Chandler Street, Tewksbury, MA 01876, will be appreciated. Arrangements were made through the Tewksbury Funeral Home.

Marjorie L. Kenison, 72

She was an executive secretary at Compugraphic-Agfa-Bayer

TEWKSBURY - Marjorie L. (Hunt) Kenison, 72, died on Sunday, Sept. 3, at the Tewksbury Hospital. She was the wife of the late George S. Kenison, who died in 1980.

She was born in Malden, a daughter of the late Earl N. and Grace (Poole) Hunt. She was raised in Malden and Everett, but had resided in Tewksbury since 1967.

She was retired from Compugraphic-Agfa-Bayer, where she had worked as an Executive Secretary.

She was a member of the Tewksbury Congregational Church. She devoted her life to raising her children, and in her later years she enjoyed her hobby of flower gardening.

She is survived by four sons and two daughters-in-law: David A. Kenison and Scott O. Kenison, both of Marlboro; Brian W. and his wife, Ellen (Donvan) Kenison, of Kent, Washington; Alan D. and his wife, Tracy (Rosenberger) Kenison, of Tewksbury; a sister and brother-in-law, Barbara and Alvin Bissell, of Rye, NH; and seven grandchildren, Jason; Benjamin; Matthew; George Kenison IV; Nicole; Scott Kenison Jr., and Megan Kenison.

She was expecting the birth of her 8th grandchild in March 2001.

Her funeral services will be held Thursday at 10:00 a.m. in the Tewksbury Funeral Home, followed by interment in Puritan Lawn Cemetery, Peabody. Memorials to the Tewksbury Hospital, Bus Fund, 365 East St. Tewksbury, MA 01876, will be appreciated.

THE BENEFIT OF FORGIVENESS

By failing to forgive, people continue to suffer damage that goes beyond the original wrong. This fact was recently brought home by a study in which volunteers were asked to think about someone who had hurt them. As a result of being prompted to dwell on their resentment, the wronged subjects showed signs of greater physiological and emotional stress, such as increased blood pressure and heart rate. Even after the subjects were asked to forget about the incident, the signs of physical stress continued. Conversely, when they were asked to forgive the people who hurt them, the volunteers felt happier and more in control. Forgiving does not involve excusing the wrongdoing, but focusing on the humanity of the wrongdoer.

At FARMER & DEE FUNERAL HOME, 16 Lee Street, we wish you faith that no matter what the future brings, you can handle it; love that sees you through the highs and lows; and the ability to always find the joy of the moment. These are the elements of "peace of mind." One more component is knowing that we are here in times of need. Our dedication to serving you with dignity, competence, and compassion never wavers. For assistance with preneed or current need funeral arrangements, call 851-7411. All Faiths are welcome.

Wilmington Library Notes

First guest author, Gary Braver, returns

The Friends of the Library will host guest author Gary Braver on Wednesday, September 13, at 7 p.m. Gary Braver (pen name for Gary Goshgarian) was well received when he visited the library as the Friends' first featured author in 1998. The author, a professor at Northeastern University in Boston, will discuss his new book Elixir, a suspenseful biotech thriller. The story poses some interesting moral and ethical questions when a "fountain of youth" drug is developed. The program is sure to be as entertaining and provocative as the book! The Friends' Hospitality Committee will once again provide delicious refreshments.

Book of the Week

The new nonfiction bookshelves have many interesting new titles that cover a wide variety of topics. Although new books are listed weekly in this column, a book of the week selection can offer a little more information on a title you may have missed. In keeping with the theme of the upcoming author program, readers may want to check out Keep Your Brain Alive:

83 Neurobic Exercises to Help Prevent Memory Loss. The authors, Lawrence Katz and Manning Rubin, contend that one can improve mental strength and flexibility which diminishes as you grow older through "neurobic" exercises. As aerobics improves physical fitness, neurobics improves mental fitness. The exercises are simple and are based on simple changes in daily routines. If you are interested in this book, the catalog number is 153.122 Kat.

Saturday hours

The library is open Saturdays, beginning September 9 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Fall Internet schedule

The library provides half hour classes on basic Internet searching. In order to participate in these classes, basic computer skills, such as using a mouse, are required. During the fall, classes will be held on Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. and on Friday morning at 10 a.m. Please call the library at 658-2967 to register. Classes begin September 14.

Reminder

If you do not have a library card, sign up during the month of September and you may win a gift certificate to Barnes and Noble!

Wilmington Senior Topics

WILMINGTON - September is Cholesterol Awareness Month. Chances are you know your cholesterol is important and that it shouldn't be too high.

Cholesterol is a waxy, fat-like substance (lipids). Although it's often discussed as if it were poison, you can't live without it. Cholesterol is essential to your body's cell membranes, to the insulation of your nerves and to the production of certain hormones. It's used by your liver to make bile acids, which help digest your food.

The confusion that clouds cholesterol is partly due to the way some people use the word. The term "cholesterol" is often a catch all term for both the cholesterol you eat and the cholesterol in your blood.

*Your dietary cholesterol - cholesterol exists in food as a dietary lipid. You'll find cholesterol only in animal products, such as meat and dairy foods.

*Your blood cholesterol - cholesterol also exists in a different way as a natural component of your blood lipids. The cholesterol in your blood comes from both your liver and from the foods you eat. Your liver makes about 80 percent of your blood cholesterol. Only about 20 percent comes from your diet. The amount of fat and cholesterol you eat may influence all levels of blood lipids, including your blood cholesterol levels.

The only way to find out if your blood lipids are in a desirable range is to have them tested. Taking a blood sample after you have fasted overnight does the test. You should have this test every three to five years - more often if you have a problem with your cholesterol.

Diet and exercise are your first line of defense against undesirable lipid levels. Changes in your diet, along with exercise, can reduce your blood cholesterol level by up to 15 percent. Remember that if you should have any question about your cholesterol and any test results please speak to your doctor.

This month we are very fortunate to be able to have our second Senior Health Fair on Thursday, September 21 from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. You will have the opportunity to learn more about cholesterol and other health issues. We are especially happy to be able to provide a free bone density screening for osteoporosis. This important tool will help give each person an idea of his or her own bone density. There will also be a Senior Pharmacy booth, nutrition booth, Minuteman Home Care and information about taking medications safely - just to name a few. Take advantage of this great event. The Wilmington Elder Department and the Wilmington Board of Health are the sponsors of this program.

This month we will also be having our annual yard sale, not only to raise money for our high school scholarship fund, but to develop a fuel assistance fund for the senior citizens of Wilmington who may find themselves in crisis due to the rising heating costs. Several town employees at the town hall are volunteering their efforts for this special event. We are collecting items for the yard sale, please feel free to drop off your donation at the Wilmington Senior Center, 15 School Street. Looking forward to seeing you on Saturday, September 16, 2000 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Senior Center events
September 8, Tai Chi class from 10 to 11 a.m.; 10 week course, free of charge.

September 13, Shine Counselor Barbara Hopper, 9 a.m.

Trip to the Bull Run Restaurant in Shirley. Be at the center by 10:15 a.m.

September 15, hearing specialist at 10 a.m.

September 16, Yard sale from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. This yard sale will benefit Wilmington High School Scholarship Fund and Fuel Crisis Fund for senior citizens of Wilmington.

September 19, Commissioners meeting at 1:30 p.m. Guest speaker, Susan Downs from Bell Atlantic Center for Customers with Disabilities.

September 20, Podiatrist 9:30 a.m.

September 21, Attorney Nancy Hogan at 10 a.m.

Senior Health Fair, 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.; remember free bone density screening.

September 29, Sing-a-long at 11 a.m.; celebrate September birthdays.

FOOTBALL

'Cats Super Bowl quest starts Friday

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Expectations were set pretty high last year for the Wilmington High football team.

Although the team had a tremendous season winning nine of eleven games - falling a few feet short of the Super Bowl - expectations are once again set pretty high starting with Friday night's season opener at North Andover with kickoff at 7:00 pm.

Surely Wilmington had the team to become the first team from Wildcat country to make it to the Super Bowl since the 1979 team behind Mike Esposito and company did so. The team fell short of that goal last year. Head coach Bob Almeida, now in his fifth season, knows that the league will be gunning for his club. He knows there will be pressure to win and he knows that his team is being predicted to go all the way by many.

"Would you rather expectations be high with a good team, or expectations be low with a bad team", asked Almeida. "The bottom line is yes we do have high hopes for the season. We are in a precarious position where we are the favorites by many going into the season."

"If we stay healthy and the kids give it everything they have I think we can win a lot of games. How many games we will win is the question. But there's at least five good teams in the league, so we're going to have our hands full."

Almeida, as always, is pretty excited about this season. He has a team that can win big, and for the first time ever the high school has inserted lights onto the football field which means the team will have six Friday night home games (seven in all) with the one first on Friday, September 15th against a tough Masconomet team at 7:00 pm.

The team knows it's good, and they know they have a chance. But to become good just first must win and winning doesn't happen in the newspapers, or in the announcer's booth. It's done on the field.

"We are a very veteran team," said Almeida. "We've been waiting for this class to become seniors. If we don't play well we're going to get beat. We're average size for the league, we aren't overly big. Our overall team speed is excellent and that should play a major role for us. This is a fun team to coach and I'm really looking forward to the season."

Last year the team had a major, major weapon in Eric Banda, who the team focused around. He has taken his spikes and helmet to Merrimack College. Now left are several hungry experienced players, who know that the team has gone 9-1 in league play in two recent seasons and haven't been to the Big Dance.

This year's team will be lead by tri-captains, Josh Hiltz, Jim Fennelly and Mark Jepson. Hiltz will begin his third year as the team's starting quarterback. He has drastically improved from his first start of two years ago against Ipswich to where he is now. Last year he completed 32-of-71 (45 percent) passes for 673 yards, including throwing five interceptions. He tossed just a handful of touchdowns, and rushed for 232 yards on 56 carries. Hestands at 5'11, 175 pounds and has tremendous speed and athleticism. He won't have Sean Quigley to throw to this season, so that might hurt. But he's a year wiser.

With Banda gone, Wilmington has to find a way to replace his 16 touchdowns and 500 yards of rushing. And Wilmington can certainly do that with Mark Jepson and Bobby French. Jepson will be remembered for his two awesome kick-off returns against Tewksbury on Thanksgiving of 86 and 79 yards. Last year he mainly ran the counter play, hoping to beat the end around the corner and show off his speed. He amounted over 450 yards and scored 6 touchdowns. Standing at 5'9, 165 pounds Jepson isn't the biggest guy out there, but he certainly can run. And Almeida certainly will make sure that he does just that.

French, on the other hand, is a much bigger and more powerful back. He will be used to run inbetween the tackles and for more straight ahead bullying yardage. When he gets the ball and gets hot, he proves to move the chains a lot. Last year he rushed for over 500 yards and scored 7 touchdowns and that was being the No. 2 guy behind Banda. Now he and Jepson are two number one backs.

George Godding, a junior who has been injured most of the pre-season, is a French in the making and he'll be one of the team's back-up backs. Another person who'll see the ball is senior wing back Dave Trueira.

"Dave got in a few plays last year on special teams," said Almeida. "As good as he was we really didn't have a place for him to play as much as we would have liked. This year he has been outstanding in the pre-season. We think he has the best hands in the league and we have been using him to run the counter play like Jepson did last year. Dave has terrific speed and with him, French, Jepson and Hiltz in the backfield we are going to be very tough."

Almeida uses a split-back veer offensive system with what he calls some peaks and add ons to it. He said he wanted to change the offensive system into a Multiple Power I unit, but chose not to do it because he felt the original plan is better suited for the team.

Protecting the runners and opening the holes for them on offense will be a senior oriented offensive line. Andy Hackett (6'0, 200) will play left end with Rob Garrett (6'2, 215) at left tackle and Justin Cammarata (5'11, 185) as the left guard, and as three of them will really be looked upon to do their jobs and protect Hiltz's blind side.

On the right side, Fennelly (5'11, 205) will be at right guard, junior Chris McHale (5'10, 215) will be the right tackle and senior Josh Howlett (6'4, 240) will be the team's right end. Cammarata and Fennelly are the two leaders of that group as they are both as tough and as quick as they come. As for receiving the ball, Howlett has the most experience with about ten catches last year for about 100 yards.

The team's center position is still being battled out and thus far senior Sean McCarthy (6'0, 210), who has seen his days on the sidelines with injuries, and junior Mike Senarian (5'11, 205) are seeing the most of the action as they look to replace Adam DiPasquale.

"We really think our offense will be better this year than it was last year. We have so much speed, and a lot of these guys have scored on long touchdowns in the preseason," said Almeida.

As for the team's defense, Almeida will once again use his 5-2 system and in his previous four years his defense has been the main reason of their success. Of the 11 defenders, a good majority of them play offense so keeping the team healthy is already an issue.

"We are pretty banged up right now," said the coach. "The one we are really concerned about [for Friday] is Andy Campbell. Hopefully we can heal up and stay healthy the rest of the way."

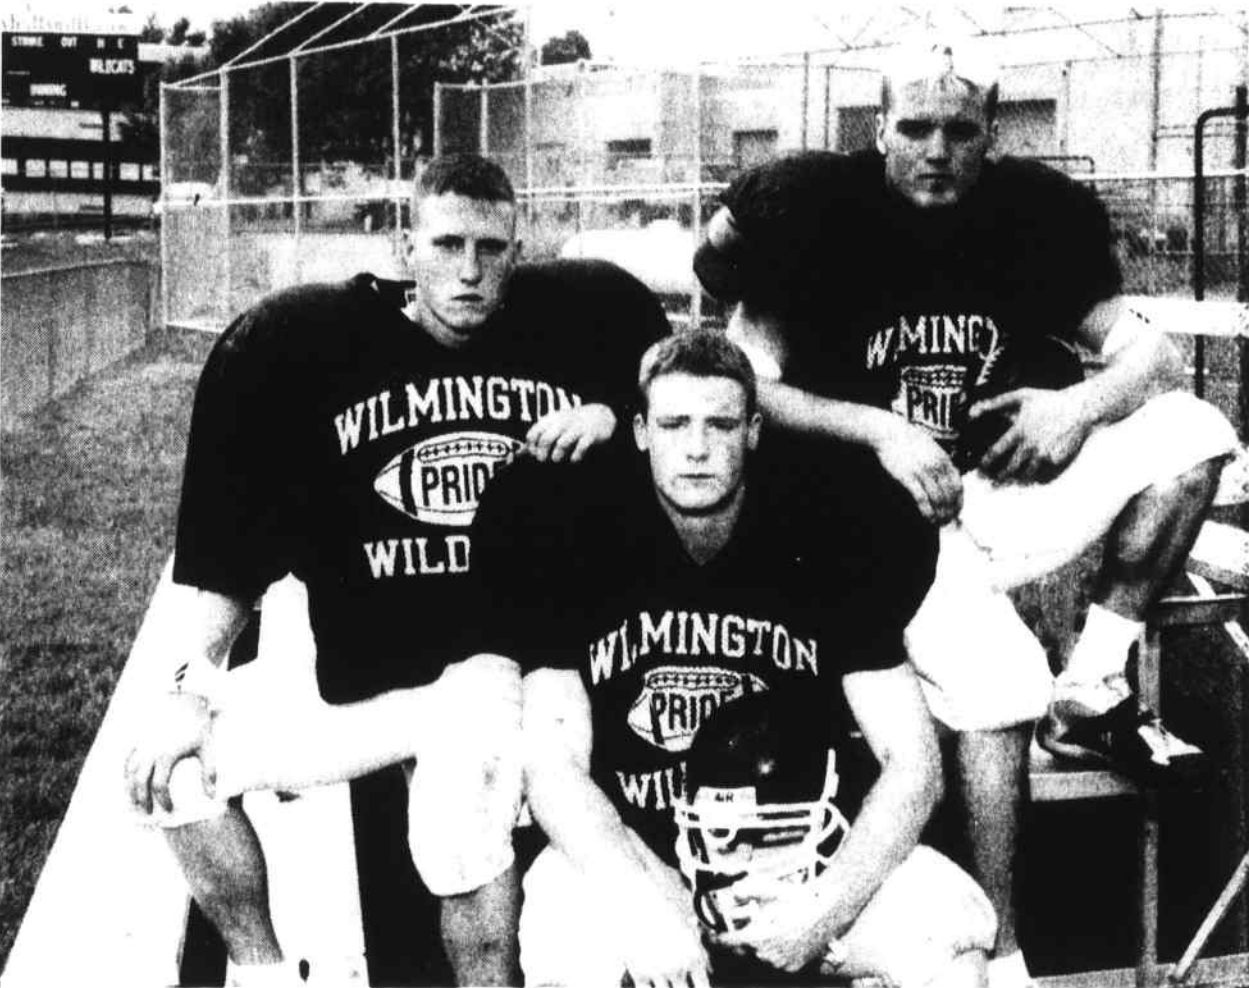

Campbell, a 6'2, 205 pound end, is a very tough kid who plays his position well. Wilmington hopes he can go on Friday and right now are seeking possible candidates in case he can't. The other end is Joe Ranno, a senior 5'9, 170-pounder who also has a lot of experience. Garrett and Howlett will be the team's two tackles, while, Cammarata, an all-league selection last season, is back again at nose guard.

Fennelly, the second of three league all-stars from last year, is back again for his third year as a linebacker. He'll be the defense's leader emotionally and physically. The other linebacker's spot is still uncertain. The team has tried a good number of players and right now senior John DiPasquale (5'10, 170) seems to have it, although Almeida said a few other players could get the call.

As for the secondary, French returns from his all-star season of a year ago to the strong safety position, with Hiltz lining up at free safety. Godding will be one of the team's cornerbacks with either Jepson or Trueira at the other spot.

Jepson will once again handle the PAT and Field Goal duties. Last year he did an excellent job in both categories. Sophomore Dereck

Downs is giving Jepson some very good competition. Campbell, if healthy, will be the team's punter, while, Fennelly will be the long snapper and back-up quarterback Mike Herra will be the holder for Jepson.

Thus far in preseason the team has played very well against the likes of Middlesex League co-champ from last year Melrose, Burlington and Lawrence. The team has been banged up with a multiple of players seeing trainer Bill Martin on a regular basis. As for the Cape Ann League, Almeida says it all starts with Friday's opponent, North Andover.

"They were a big and inexperienced team from last year and now they are a big and experience team that has taken a serious role in the weight room this off season," he said. "Their guys up front are very big and they can basically block the sun. But our guards [Fennelly and Cammarata] are so fast that we hope that will give them concerns. North Andover has a strong quarterback who runs the option very well and we expect them to play some power football."

As for the other teams in the league, Almeida believes

Masconomet, reigning Division 4-B Super Bowl champion Pentucket,

Ipswich, Triton and Newburyport will be up there as well.

If Wilmington is to make a serious run at its first Super Bowl appearance in 21 years, they will have to play every game, every quarter and every down the same.

Tewksbury draws bye Redmen season starts next week

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

This is the first week of the second "football section" that I've created. But for those readers from Tewksbury, and or Tewksbury fans, this issue is minus a lot of the coverage that is normally devoted to them. The reason for that is Tewksbury doesn't begin their season until Saturday, September 16th against Everett, thus giving them an extra week off whereas Wilmington and Shawsheen Tech both begin their seasons this upcoming weekend.

However, inside is some talk of what to expect from Tewksbury this season, as well as their season schedule for those who haven't seen it yet.

Next week, look for complete team coverage of the Redmen with a team preview, features, game previews and columns of the upcoming season.

Fennelly looks to push 'Cats to the top

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

After 19 games of being a superb high school linebacker for the Wilmington High football team, senior tri-captain Jim Fennelly took his incredible dedication, love and work ethic for the sport to several higher levels.

This past summer along with teammates John DiPasquale and Josh Howlett, Fennelly joined a speed football camp, which as he described was almost hell. There the three of them pushed 400 pound tires up steep hills and pulled 285-pound tires, as well as other vigorous amount of workout activities to help them get into better shape for the upcoming season.

Fennelly didn't hang out at the beach often, didn't hang out at the arcades or even as he called it "have a social life" during the summer going into his last year of high school. His summer was getting ready for football - which is something he is very good at and something he takes very seriously.

"I take football pretty serious," he said. "Sometimes too serious. But I think if you're playing a sport, you're not doing it to goof around."

Fennelly is a three-sport athlete who has the reputation of being an extremely hard working, hard nosed, very focused, very determined and very dedicated to each and every team he belongs. On the baseball diamond he was a catcher turned shortstop; on the basketball court he came out for the team this past year as one of five football players to add toughness to the team. He brought much, much more than toughness to the team.

And on the gridiron, Fennelly is a wrecking machine - he hits everything and everyone very hard and he does his job as an offensive guard and linebacker extremely well. In fact his efforts last year were noticed as he was a league all-star.

"I really think that he has a great chance of being the league's MVP this year," said coach Bob Almeida. "He's a kid who has done absolutely everything he can do to be in the right shape and it's paid off. He's in such good shape. He makes plays that a lot of kids can't and he does them in such a high level. He had a great year for us last year and this year he's faster and stronger."

"His sophomore year he was very thin - he was very light especially upper body. But he always knew what to do. He always would ask us to watch films over and over - not because he wanted a starting job so badly but because in case he was called upon he knew what to do. Mike Gennetti hurt his shoulder that year and Jim filled in the last eight games as linebacker and has been there since."

Before the 1998 season started as a sophomore, Fennelly told his friends that he wanted one thing during the football season: to have a position on special teams.

"That's all I wanted - I wanted to be a part of the kick-off team. If I made that I would be so happy. I ended up starting eight games that year as a linebacker and that gave me a lot of confidence. I knew I could play. But back then I was 150 pounds and I got banged around a lot. But I also learned a lot - and I knew what I had to do. I had to start lifting, I'd run once or twice a day and really work hard to get better."

That he did. As a linebacker, he paired up with Eric Banda over the last 19 games from 1998 and '99 and they were all but a force to be reckoned with. Making the majority of the team's tackles during games, the two of them were a major reason why Wilmington was the least scored team in all of Division 4 last season with 50 (regular season). Right now experimentations have been going on to see who will fill in for Banda, who has graduated. DiPasquale seems to have the position.

"It was fun playing with Eric," he said. "Playing so much together you get to know one another pretty good. But even though he was with me, I had to my job of making the right reads and he had to do his job. I had a lot of fun playing with him and it really doesn't matter who I play with."

As good as Fennelly and the entire defensive core were last year, the offensive line was just as good. They are the ones who do all of the dirty work and get no credit while the backs get the glory with the touchdowns. As a guard, Fennelly is so quick on his feet, and a devastating blocker. He and the rest of last year's line was pretty phenomenal creating holes as the combination of Banda/Josh Hiltz/Bob French and Mark Jepson combined for well over 1,800 yards and 30 or so touchdowns.

"At the start of practice we changed our offense into a Power-I and I was going to be a fullback and I liked that a lot. But we changed things back to our original offense and that's a lot of fun for me as a guard because we pull and kick out a lot - so I just go around and hit people which is a lot of fun," said Fennelly.

Fennelly admitted that last year the expectations of getting to the Super Bowl by the team and others did get to them a little bit. This year he knows those expectations are there again, but he hopes to learn from last year's experience.

"I'm not thinking about the Super Bowl or any of that. If we all try our hardest I'll be happy - I'm not going to worry about anything else. Last year we worried too much about other teams. There was one game when Pentucket was playing Ipswich and we had a game - and all of us were thinking about Ipswich beating them and we didn't concentrate at all in that game."

"Right now we have one goal and that's to beat North Andover on Friday night. Whatever happens, will happen. We can't be concerned about other teams. If we play our hardest and have no regrets, we'll stand together if we win or lose as a team."

The smell, sights and sounds of high school football is here

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Ahh... football season is here. Can you smell it? I know I can.

It's that time again - high school football with the likes of local teams Wilmington, Tewksbury and Shawsheen Tech.

Wilmington is coming off a very good 9-2 season where they were the co-champs of the Cape Ann League.

Tewksbury is also coming off a spectacular year finishing 8-2 after going 2-8 the season before.

Shawsheen is coming off a tough season (3-7) where they saw a six game losing streak hit their team towards the latter half of the season, but they look for bigger and better things this season under second year head coach Al Costabile.

So what's in store for this season? Well a lot if you ask me. First you have two potential teams in Wilmington and Tewksbury who have been predicted by many already to win their respective divisions of the Cape Ann League, and the Merrimack Valley Conference. Wouldn't that be something if both teams headed into Wilmington High this Thanksgiving morning, both going to the Super Bowl and both possibly undefeated?

Going undefeated in high school ball is much like a baseball pitcher tossing a no-hitter: you need to be good and you need to be lucky.

Seeing both teams do that this year is certainly not out of the question, but I wouldn't bet on it either.

OK we have two possible contenders... and oh yeah, lights for the Wilmington High Field. After years and decades of talk and teasing by the town, Michael Cairra, Wilmington's Town Manager, stood behind the Wilmington Athletic Department with open arms and got the field the lights it should have had twenty years ago. As for Tewksbury they are the only MVC team without lights, which is superb - you gotta love those Saturday afternoon games.

Last year I displayed the new "football section", a second sports section of just high school football from the three schools. From what I gathered people enjoyed it. As for me it was a lot more work, but I was satisfied especially for it being a last minute thought of mine last year. This year we will be doing the section again, adding some things and subtracting some others. One thing that isn't scheduled for this year is the cheerleader profiles.

This is the debut of this year's football section. It's much more organized, it's in a different format and I think you will enjoy it more. This week the entire section is about Wilmington and Shawsheen Tech because both of those teams begin their season this upcoming weekend. Tewksbury has another week to prepare for their first game against the reigning Division 1 Super Bowl champs of Everett, minus all-everything running back Diamond Ferri who is now at Syracuse University.

What can we expect for this season? Well for starters, Wilmington has a tough start out of the gate with four of five good teams - so the real test for them should be right away. They also have several big rivalry games with Pentucket (away on October 7th), while they host Masconomet (Sept 15th), Newburyport (Oct 27) and Tewksbury (Nov. 23).

Tewksbury, will also be tested right away in their first two games with Everett and Chelmsford, both at home on September 16 and 23, respectively. Everett still is legit, and they seem to pull out a sensational running back out of their hats every three years, so another Omar Easy or Diamond Ferri could easily be in the works.

Chelmsford also lost their top running back in Chris Piscione, the son of assistant coach Bill Piscione of Tewksbury. Chelmsford doesn't have an experienced running back or quarterback, but they do have a lot of returning linemen, both offensively and defensively.

Tewksbury also will hook up with a tough Lowell team on Friday, October 13th at Cawley Stadium, as well as playing the reigning MVC and Super Bowl Champs of Billerica on the road on November 10th, just 13 days before traveling to Wilmington for the Turkey Game.

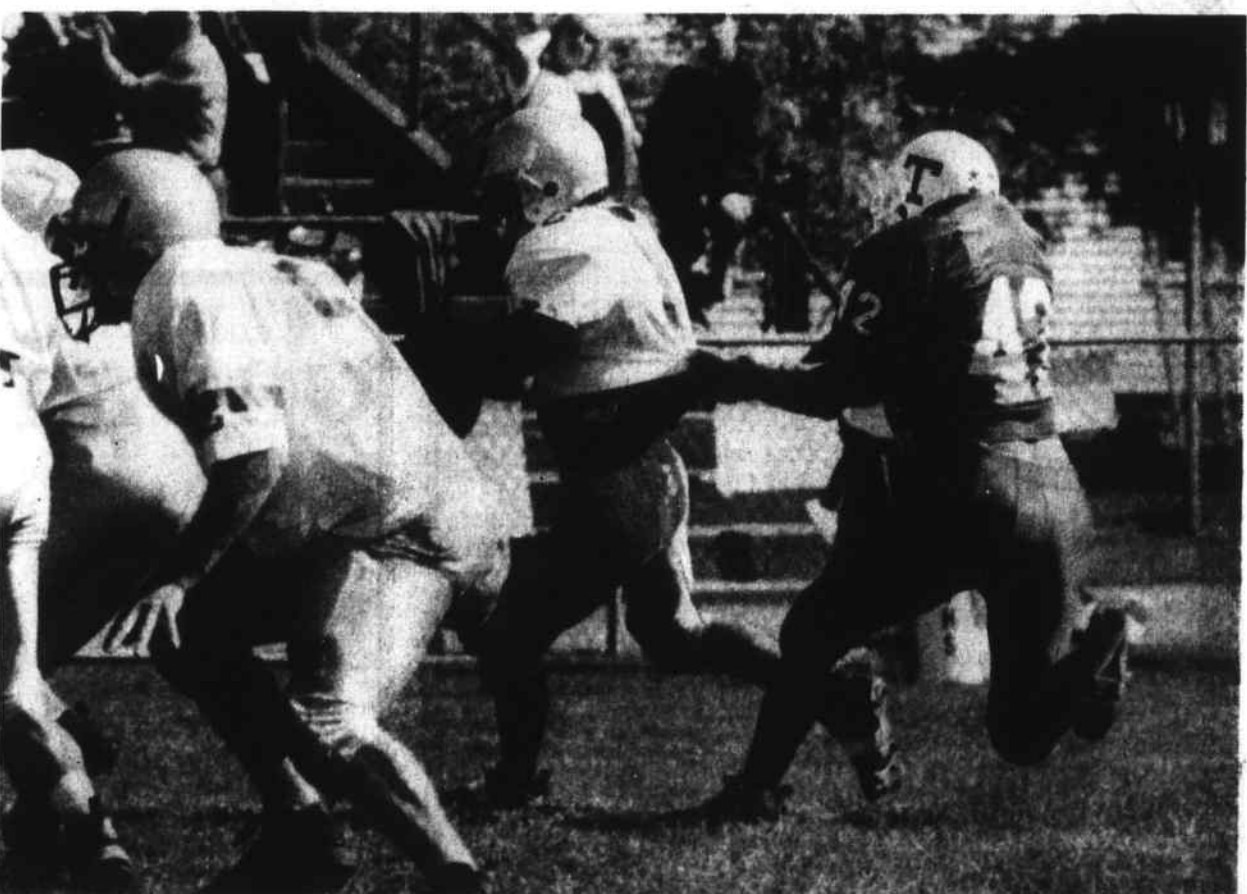

Shawsheen is confident they will be much better than last year. They hope their veteran leadership will take them a long way. Their big match-ups of the season are all in November with match-ups against Whittier, Lynn Tech and Greater Lowell.

Whenever I have predicted team's records I always seem to offend many people, players and coaches - which I don't mind at all because it's my opinion just like they have their own opinions. But I'm not going to do that this year, mainly because last year after giving out my predictions some people almost took it a step further of being upset. But I will do my weekly columns of predictions of games and I'll go along as the season goes.

As for this high school football season, I sure hope you sit back, watch and enjoy because there might not be one like it for a long, long time.

THE TEWKSBURY HIGH FOOTBALL TEAM will be previewed next week as two of the captains Ryan Carlson (above) and Erik Nikerson (below) hope the season is another successful one. (File Photos).

Rams looking for bigger and better things

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

If the Shawsheen Tech Football team wants to be successful this season, they first have to start eyeing on their league opponents which they went winless against last season.

If the Shawsheen Tech Rams want to be successful this season they have to stay healthy, stay focused and be ready at all times.

After starting off 3-1 last season, the Rams lost their last six games to finish 3-7. During those six games they lost a lot of key people, but they weren't getting any bounces or calls their way. It was just one of those seasons. One of those seasons, third year head coach Al Costabile doesn't want to see again anytime soon.

"Our strengths is the work ethic and attitudes of the kids," said Costabile. "It's been the best I've had with any team. I've really been impressed. Our key is to get off to a good start so we feel confident when those league games come around. And we feel that we have the senior class to do it."

The Commonwealth Athletic

Conference has certainly been on the rise the last few years. Whittier Tech, Lynn Tech and certainly Greater Lowell are the top teams during the pre-season as they return several outstanding players. Shawsheen hopes they can be in the mix of things especially with the experience they bring back to the field.

"One of our weaknesses last year was our special teams - we just didn't have the depth. This year we return a lot of players and our depth is much better."

Offensively, the team will be using a lot of Stack and Pro formations behind Wilmington native senior quarterback Derek McLaren. He certainly has some good players around him as running back Mike Stubbs ran the ball pretty well last year once Brian LeBlanc went down with an injury. James Fallica and Jim Dickinson are two quality wide receivers. Both of the receivers can catch the ball, and McLaren has a good arm. If the team can establish the running game, then the passing game should follow.

Establishing the running game could be made easier this season with a solid group of linemen returning. Chaz Grid (5'7, 260) is the team's center, with Pat Doran (6'5, 280) and Mike Celeta (5'9, 270) as the two tackles. Wilmington native Matt O'Brien returns for his third year as a starting guard and he stands at 5'10, 215 pounds. Tewksbury native Jeremy Verrocchio, a junior (6'0, 180) will be the other guard, while, Pat McLaughlin (6'4, 220) will be a tight end and Mark Bourdon (6'1, 195) is the starting fullback, to block for Stubbs.

Tewksbury native Mike Ganchi (5'4, 154), a senior, will see time as a running back, while, Ken Montemagno (5'10, 175) will be a back-up receiver and Joe Ferreira (5'7, 210) should see time on the line.

The offense will certainly be tested come this Saturday night when the Rams travel to Arlington to take on Arlington Catholic in a non-league game starting at 7:30 PM.

"I'm very familiar with [AC] from being at Bishop Fenwick," said Costabile. "They have a very good program. They have good size on the offensive and defensive lines - they have very respectable size. I think both teams really match-up well against each other as we have some size too. I think the game will come down to whomever takes care of the football and whomever makes the least amount of turnovers."

Defensively, the Rams have O'Brien and Wilmington native Brian Corcoran (6'4, 215), a junior as the two defensive ends. Bill Jones (6'2, 260) and Doran are the two tackles, while, Tewksbury native Charlie Ward, Verrocchio, Alex Fowler and Bourdon are the four linebackers in the 4-4 set. The first two plan on being the outside linebackers, and the last two will play inside. Stubbs, Dickinson and Fallica are the starting backfield with Brad Lawrenson looking to get some time. Ward will also do the kicking.

Other locals on the team trying to crack the line-up are: (From Wilmington) John Dell'Anno, Dave Silva, Chris Bennett, Bob Maxwell, Gerald Holland, Jarred Sawyer, Adam King, Jonathan Bradbury, Mark Stewart and Adam Sawyer. Dave Callahan, of Tewksbury, will also be looking to help out.

Shawsheen Tech offensive lineman O'Brien continues to battle through the tough trenches

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

In the game of football, if you're an offensive lineman, the game might not be so fun. After all you are matched up against the biggest guys who usually weigh well over 200 pounds and who come after you like a K-9 Dog goes after raw meat.

Wilmington native Matt O'Brien is about to start his third season as a guard for the Shawsheen Tech Rams football team. His job: create holes for his running backs by blocking other monsters that come at him, as well as give his quarterback enough time to unleash a pass while mad and intense defensive linemen come in to make O'Brien their dinner.

Certainly not an easy job. Not for anyone, regardless of their size. O'Brien? He stands at 5'10, 215 pounds - certainly not the biggest lineman on the football field. But for Shawsheen Tech, he's the veteran lineman, the one who is looked upon to help guide the younger guys, and of course he's the veteran guy that knows no matter what linemen do to create holes for the offense to set up, there's no credit that goes with the territory.

"We have the toughest job," said the senior, who'll have the task of holding off Arlington Catholic defenders in the teams opening game on Saturday night. "We do 90 percent of the work and don't get any credit. The only time you hear about us is when we screw up. [When the offense does well] it's just nice job."

"I believe linemen as a whole deserve more credit. There's no individual linemen, we're a team that works together trying to win. Everything balances out, but you need each other to win."

Before arriving at the Tech, O'Brien spent two years in the Pop Warner system where his coach then, Bob Gillis who is now a member of the Wilmington High staff after years at Shawsheen, inserted O'Brien as a lineman. O'Brien took to it right away and continued to stay as a guard when he got to Shawsheen as Gillis continued to work with him at the JV level.

After a year of playing JV, O'Brien made the varsity team as a sophomore. That team, loaded with talent with the likes of Jim Goglia, went 6-4 under first year head coach Al Costabile. O'Brien has been one of the starting guards for every single game of Costabile's short stay thus far and the Coach knows he can count on his pupil for another solid season.

"Matt is a real hard nosed player," said Costabile. "He's an intelligent player who thinks about the game. It's not just the physical part with him. He has developed a great awareness for the game. He helps the younger kids as he has a lot of experience to offer them. He has that knowledge and savvy for the game that you love to see in a kid."

"We love having him as part of our program. We're looking for him to have another great year for us to end a great career."

O'Brien has seen his share of talented running backs who he has busted everything he has to create them holes so they can sneak through to get closer to the end zone. He has seen Goglia, a monstrous power back who destroyed anything that came near him. Goglia ran for over 1,000 yards in each of his junior and senior seasons. After Goglia was Brian LeBlanc, who ran for over 800 yards as a junior and was on pace for at least that again until he broke his collarbone half way through last season.

"It helps so much [to have players like Goglia and LeBlanc behind you]," he said. "You need a strong back who is balanced with power and speed. Goglia had power - he would run over so many kids. Brian was a good player. He might not have had the power but what he lacked there he certainly made up with skill. Both of them were great and I'm glad I had the chance to block for them."

Last year things were going terrific off the start of the season. O'Brien and the rest of the linemen were doing superb jobs creating holes for LeBlanc and others. The Rams were 3-1, and all of a sudden they lost every game thereafter with no explanation.

"We're going to make sure we get good night's of sleep before every game," he said. "Last year we socialized too much before games; maybe we'll do that after games this year."

As for this season, O'Brien truly believes that the team can bounce back and cause some damage. He, like every other senior who has gone through the trenches, envisions a Super Bowl game and really who knows if that will happen?

"We'll play each and every game," he said. "We look pretty good so far. I'm hoping for a chance for a Super Bowl but a lot of factors go into that like injuries and grades which may take out key players. All in all, if that doesn't happen, I think we're going to do pretty good."

"This is a sport that's fun, but very tough and you try to go out and win. And we're going to try very hard to do that."

• Wilmington defeated North Andover, 50-12, in last year's season and home opener at Alumni Field. The game took two-and-half hours, as Wilmington jumped out to an 20-0 lead after the first quarter. Eric Banda rushed for four touchdowns, but had just 31 rushing yards. Wilmington took advantage of a young and inexperienced team, as well as terrific field position throughout the game. The Cats committed five turnovers in the game. Josh Hiltz tossed for 86 yards completing 5-of-10 passes and he also rushed in a touchdown. Josh Howlett and Dave Aronofsky added the other TDs.

• Wilmington also defeated North Andover, 8-0, on a rainy Friday night game at North Andover Middle School in 1998. Then running back Mike Gennetti had a monster night rushing for 101 yards and scoring the lone touchdown. He was commended for his efforts by getting the WCCM Radio Player of the Game award.

• The 'Cats enter this season with a lot of experience in the backfield. Senior Josh Hiltz is starting his third season as quarterback. In his last two years he has combined to complete 45 percent of his passes (58-for-130) for 1,184 yards. He also has combined to toss for over 10 touchdowns and 10 interceptions. He has rushed for 268 yards in 1998 and 232 yards in 1999 for a combined mark of 500 yards. Mark Jepson returns with a combined mark of 653 rushing yards and 8 touchdowns in the past two seasons. Bob French has rushed for almost 650 yards in the past two seasons and he has scored 9 times.

• Wilmington finished the 90s decade with a record of 48-54-2, with the first six seasons in the Merrimack Valley Conference. The last two seasons Wilmington finished 9-2 in 1999 and 8-3 in 1998.

• The assistant coaches under Bob Almeida include: Gary Nihan, Carl Stauffer, Mike Barry, Bob Gillis, Tim Jones and Rich DeLucia.

• The last two seasons Shawsheen has opened up with victories over Boston English in a non-league game. In 1999 Shawsheen won, 14-12, as they stopped English on the 1-yard line on the final play of the game to preserve the victory. The Rams trailed 6-0, but came back when co-captain Brian LeBlanc of Wilmington, scored two touchdowns of 60 and 4 yards. He ended the game rushing for 127 yards on 12 carries. English marched down the field in the final few minutes but the Rams shut them down on the final play of the game. In the second half, head coach Al Costabile made a few adjustments, one of them putting Mike Stubbs at cornerback to defend Mustusa Alabi, and it worked wonderfully as Stubbs had an interception and knocked down four other passes. In 1998, Shawsheen defeated English at Fusco Field in Billerica, 28-8, in Coach Costabile's debut after his 7 seasons at Bishop Fenwick which he had a record of 46-27 including two Super Bowl appearances in '95 and '96.

• Costabile is assisted by Mark Donovan and Jim DeLuca who are also the wrestling and baseball coaches, respectively.

• Shawsheen usually starts out of the gate quickly. In 1998 they were 2-0 before ending the last eight games at 4-4 to finish 6-4. In 1999 they started off 3-1 before losing their last six games for an 3-7 record. Coach Costabile has an 9-11 record as head coach of the Rams, and an overall record of 55-38 in his previous 9 seasons between Fenwick and Shawsheen.

• Shawsheen will travel to Lynnfield for a non-league game on September 16th, before returning home for their opener on September 23rd against Boston English.

Gutsy predictions return for another season

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

It's come to that time again where I make a fool out of myself by making some predictions of some local high school football games. Well last year I think I did alright - I had a few games wrong and a few records wrong, but hey they are predictions! Last year I said that Plus, sometimes you get out on a limb because you want the home-town team to beat the favorite so to speak, so you stick your neck out here and there. And then I had the Shawsheen Tech predictions when I didn't know too much about their opponents.

Last year I know I was a few wins off Tewksbury's record saying they would finish anywhere between 4-6 and 6-4 if things went right for them. So they finished 8-2. Things really went right for them. Wilmington and Shawsheen I don't remember what I said for records, but I believe I said 10-1 and 5-5, respectively. I might be wrong with that, but if that's what I said I wasn't far off at 9-2 and 3-7.

At this time last year I gave my predictions of the three upcoming games and I said Rams would win 13-7 and they won 14-12. I said Everett would defeat Tewksbury 35-14 and they won 35-21. And finally I thought Wilmington was going to crush Masconomet 42-13, but they just edged them out 14-6 in a sloppy, cold afternoon.

So this year I guess I'm going to get several players, teams, coaches and spectators upset when I say the local team might lose to that weekend's opponent. Well, that's life. I'm not making it personal on anyone, it's just a bunch of numbers thrown out to make the season and this section fun.

So this weekend there's two games, as Tewksbury has the week off because they don't play 11 games whereas Wilmington and Shawsheen do.

Wilmington
The 'Cats finished 9-2 last season and take on North Andover which finished 4-7 last year. Wilmington outscored its opponents 277-71 last year, while in the last two meetings against the Scarlet Knights they have outscored them by a combined margin of 60-12. Wilmington finished 4-1 at home and 5-1 on the road. North Andover was outscored 248-154, but takeaway the first loss against Wilmington and they were outscored 198-142. They were 1-3 at home and 3-4 on the road.

So what do all of these numbers mean? Absolutely nothing. North Andover will be much better than a season ago, but I'm going to go with Wilmington in the opener, 21-6.

Shawsheen

The Rams always start off out of the gate in the lead and looking comfortable until they seem to run out of gas come late in the season. This is their first meeting against Arlington Catholic and to be honest I don't know anything about them except for what coach Al Costabile told me. So I'm going to start the new section off by pleasing everyone so the Rams win the season opener on the road under the lights, 12-7.

WHS Girls' Soccer preview

New team, New attitude, New Goals

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Last year at this time expectations were pretty high for the Wilmington High girls' soccer team. After two wins in the state tournament including knocking off the No. 1 seed in 1998, the nine returning seniors on last year's team expected bigger and better things. But that didn't happen. What did happen is the injury bug hit the team and hit them hard, while, the team missed out qualifying for the state tournament by a single point.

Today those nine seniors from last year's team is gone - including Lindsay Bruno, who holds the all-time scoring record at WHS with 59 points, including 46 goals.

Now the tides have turned for the program - this could easily be called a rebuilding season and for intensive purposes it is. But there's some talent on the team - some real good talent. Although expectations aren't as high as they were at this time last year, expectations are still very much there.

"More than half of the team are freshmen and sophomores," said head coach Sue Hendee. "We also have nine seniors including two new ones. If we play together as a team I really think we can do pretty well. All of them have really committed themselves during the pre-season and they are working as hard as any team I've coached."

Hendee now has a brand new core of players. The nine seniors that graduated, basically were on the team all four years together with many ups and downs. With a new group of faces, Hendee hopes the team can get off to a good start and take it from there.

"Last year was a very frustrating year. With all of the injuries we had and not making the tournament by one single point really was disappointing. I think that really left a bad taste [in the returning player's mouths] and they are really focused. The seniors this year are really trying to guide the younger players, by showing intensity and great leadership. I really hope we can surprise a lot of people this year."

The injuries did hurt the team a lot last year. Goaltender Meredith Cipriani went down and field player Becky Rufo jumped into the action and played superbly all season. She returns for her senior season as the defensive backbone. Defenders Danielle Spry and Mary Sullivan also some quite a bit of time last year, while Jen Leone was very impressive filling in at the forward position.

"But on the plus side of [the injuries], the five freshmen from last year's team really got a lot of playing time because of the injuries. They got some good experience and there's some good tough players in that group. And the incoming freshmen now are really tough," said Hendee.

Hendee knows that the experience coming back is mostly defensive. But she also has some pretty good talent up front. Defensively in front of Rufo will be seniors Christine DeSimone, Michele Lemos and Molly Pidgeon, and all three of them have a lot of experience. DeSimone has a very strong leg and can boot the ball with the rest

Boys' soccer looks to add scoring punch

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

After two consecutive Division 3 North Championship titles in 1997 and '98, the Wilmington High boys' soccer team failed to qualify for the state tournament last year with a 6-10-2 record. It wasn't like the Wildcats had a terrible 1999 season - in fact they were in almost every game, but had trouble scoring after losing veterans Justin Vallas and Dennis Ingram.

All of that could change this season.

"We have a lot of veteran defenders," said interim coach Steve Scanlon, who is filling in for his father who has been ill. "We have a veteran goalkeeper and our strength is our defense. We struggled to score goals last year, but thus far in pre-season we have scored our share of goals and we hope that continues in the regular season."

Last year several games were decided when opponents scored within the last minute of a game or a half, which seemed to break the backs of the 'Cats. Tri-captain Tim Riley said sometimes last year the team played a little flat, and he hopes the team takes it right to North Reading in the opener on Wednesday afternoon. But to do that they need everyone working together.

Starting with the defense, Dan Alosco returns in the net. He came on strong towards the end of the last season.

"We need a huge year from him," said Scanlon. "He's a big kid, he's a good goalie and has good athletic skills."

In front of Alosco will be Riley, the team's sweeper. Riley was the team's stopper-back at the start of last season and immediately after a few games where the team struggled, Dick Scanlon put Riley back there to solidify the defense and it certainly paid off. The three-sport athlete is very tough and he is the veteran on the club who has been through the good years and the tough season of a year ago.

Helping out Riley will be Jeff Cannon, the second of the tri-captains. Cannon is a solid defender who'll be playing the stopper position. Steve Scanlon said Cannon is having a very good pre-season. Sophomore Jason Gustin, as well as David Graves will also see time in the backfield.

The team's two go-to players will be senior Mike Halas, a very raw yet extremely tough player. He is the third captain of the team and he'll man the defensive mind-fielder's spot. Junior Adam Jensen will return for his third year as a varsity player. He has come along way and seems to have the most skills on the team. He'll be playing the attack midfielder's spot, where Steve Scanlon hopes he can help out with several goals.

The team has several new forwards who they hope can fill the void of goalscorers. Senior Franz Maratiz, a transfer from Venezuela, will be one of the striker's and according to coach Steve Scanlon, he knows the game and has an excellent shot which should help out a lot. Freshman Mike Kelley is believed to be an impact player right off the start. He has natural instincts, reads the ball very well and is a good sized kid for a newcomer. Seniors Jon Bamberg, Chris Callway and Jarred Constantino all return after spending time with the varsity the last year or so, while senior Rob Schell returns to the program after taking the last two years off. Cliff Calvalho, would have seen some time as a forward as he expected to put his share of balls in the net, but he bumped heads with an Stoneham player in a pre-season scrimmage as has a severe concussion and most likely will miss some action.

After hosting North Reading on Wednesday, Wilmington will travel to Tewksbury on Friday for a non-league contest, before returning to WHS on Tuesday afternoon against Masconomet at 3:45 pm. Steve Scanlon said as it always has been it should be Masconomet and North Andover at the top with Wilmington, North Reading, Lynnfield, Hamilton-Wenham and Pentucket all in the mix.

Elder Scanlon won't begin season as coach

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

It's been a strange pre-season for the Wilmington High boys' soccer team. And now without their long time coach Dick Scanlon on the sidelines, the season will be even more strange.

On the first day or practice two weeks ago, Scanlon was sitting on his stool talking to his players about the hazing laws. Upon instructing them that hazing would not be appropriate, Scanlon fell of his chair and passed out. Assistant coach Chip Bruce attended Coach Scanlon with the help of one of the tri-captains Mike Halas, who is a life-guard and knows CPR. Tim Riley called 911 and Scanlon was taken to the hospital for tests.

Scanlon is fine and is resting comfortably in his home. His doctors aren't sure what caused him to pass out, but Scanlon and the doctors think it could have been dehydration, since hot summer days really affect the veteran coach.

"I'm resting here at my house with the air conditioning and I'm doing OK," said Scanlon. "Sometimes the sun really gets to me."

Scanlon said he will return as coach of the team, but is not sure when. He is hoping in about a month or so he'll get back to the sidelines, but he said it all depends on how he feels. Athletic Director Jim Gillis appointed Dick's son, Steve, the varsity hockey team's coach who was the Westford Academy boys' soccer coach for 8 years, as interim coach. Both Steve Scanlon and Chip Bruce are very good friends, not to mention Bruce is Scanlon's assistant coach in hockey, as well as serving as his assistant coach at Westford where the two enjoyed four Dual County League Championships, two Division 2 North Championship titles and one Division 2 State Championship title in 1992.

Prior to last year's 6-10-2 record, Dick Scanlon coached the Wildcat boys' soccer team to two consecutive Division 3 North Championship titles in 1997 and 1998. In 1997 the team lost in the state finals, 1-0 to Gateway Regional, before losing in the Eastern Mass final in 1998 to Medway. In 1990, Medway also defeated Wilmington in the Eastern Mass sectional final.

"Obviously I don't want to be the coach under these circumstances," said Steve Scanlon. "I'd rather see my father here. He has done a great job establishing this program and I hope I can continue to do that for the short time I'm filling in for him."

Dick Scanlon, who retired from teaching at WHS this past year and is already a member of the WHS Athletic Hall of Fame, has been the team's varsity coach since 1982 as has coached three Division 3 North Championship titles. He also has over 250 victories as head varsity baseball coach at WHS.

Golf team driving for better results

BY PATRICK HANRAHAN
Sports Correspondent

As the Red Sox are finding out, a pitching staff that consists of one great starter and a bunch of question marks will not win consistently over the long haul. Golf teams are the same way. Most have an ace, but the good teams win the day with golfers three through six.

After their successful season fell short in the state finals in Chatham last year, the Wilmington Wildcats return to action this season with a deeper and more mature squad. They're banking that most teams in the Cape Ann League will not be able to match up with their quality of play from the top to the bottom of the lineup.

"We have a very experienced team returning," said coach Al Fessenden, who was the number one golfer of the Wildcats squad that went 12-4 and captured the big league side of the Cape Ann League. In fact, they only lose one player to graduation, Evan O'Neil, who golfed in the sixth spot last season.

The squad will be anchored by two sets of brothers, the Velardos and Ungvarskys. Senior Brian Velardo, who was the number one golfer most of last season, stakes claim to that position again. His brother, sophomore David Velardo, gained experience by playing in most of the matches last season as a freshman.

Junior Aaron Ungvarsky starts the season as the number two golfer, but that could change quickly. He played in a number of New England Titleist tournaments this summer and came out ranked number one. Many of his teammates also participated in the regional events.

"You're playing with some good competition," said coach Fessenden. "So far in practice, it's shown that their ability has improved."

Senior Jay Youngclaus will golf in the number three spot while sophomore Jordan Ungvarsky will play somewhere in the middle of the lineup. Junior Kyle Burns will take up the spot vacated by Evan O'Neil, but senior Mike Montalto, sophomore Doug Horan, junior Jack Webb and junior Justin Strem will all battle for that position throughout the year.

To round out the team, Fessenden has kept a couple of freshmen on the squad, Kevin Neville and Matt MacEachern. The coach hopes that they learn from their experienced teammates what it takes to carry on the winning tradition.

"I think we'll be a team that the league will have to deal with," said Fessenden. "I don't want to give the kids the kiss of death. I think last year in a couple of matches the mindset may have lost it. But I think they may have it this year."

The Wildcats will face some tough competition this year in the Cape Ann League. "Lynnfield is always tough," said Fessenden. "In fact they were champs in Division 2 last year." North Reading, Pentucket and Masconomet will also field solid teams.

The Wildcats' coach likes the makeup of this squad and sees hope in their work ethic. "Last year, they surprised me because we were very inexperienced," said Fessenden. "The year before we lost (golfers) one to four. They worked very hard in the offseason."

The hard work that led to surprising success last year will be called upon again this season as the team prepares for a year with heightened expectations. To coach Fessenden, the team appears unfazed by the pressure.

"They're really into it," said the coach. "They help each other in practice. I probably get more nervous than they do."

The first test of their mettle comes Tuesday at North Andover in the season opener. The Wildcats return home Thursday and Friday to face back-to-back matches with Ipswich and Triton at Hillview Golf Course in North Reading.

Starting off the season on the road will be a good first test. In golf, the home field can really make a big difference to the outcome of a match because golf courses are all different. Experience often means that a golfer has some familiarity with the course.

Fessenden is ready to see his squad's experience and hard work pay off. "If we can play good on the road," he said, "I think we're solid one through six."

Golfers win first match

The WHS Golf team defeated North Andover at their home course of the North Andover Country Club on Tuesday afternoon to begin their season 1-0.

Brian Velardo shot a 39 and won 2&1; Jay Youngclaus shot a 37 and won 2 up; David Velardo shot a 39, while winning 2&1; and Kyle Burns shot a 37 and won 4 & 3.

Although he lost his match, Aaron Ungvarsky shot a round of 37 while playing in the number 1 slot - his opponent shot an even par 35.

"It was a good road win for us as it got us off on the right direction," said coach Al Fessenden. "It's always tough to have that first match on the road."

Who needs predictions? WHS Field Hockey preview

Let's just play

By DAVID FLYNN
Sports Correspondent

Sometimes change is good. The Wilmington girls' field hockey team is banking on it.

Since last season the Wildcats' team has undergone a lot of changes after going 3-8-7 a year ago.

Out is the old style of play. In is the new 3-3-3-1 balanced attack. Out are 12 players lost to graduation. In are many welcomed new faces including assistant coach Julie Gillis.

The new look Wildcats have head coach Patti Cushing, now in her third season, confident that last years' struggles were left in the past.

"I am really not going to make predictions anymore," said Cushing, referring to the last two years of hoping her teams had the potential of accomplishing a lot record wise. "I think we should have a pretty good season."

Senior co-captain Kim Gillespie will not predict how the Wildcats are going to do this season either, but she is excited about the way the team has mentally prepared for the upcoming season.

"Everyone is a little more focused," said Gillespie, when asked to compare the upcoming season with the 1999 season. "Last year we had a very good team but we did not produce the way we could have."

"[This season], we know we have to give 100 percent. We know what we have to do."

The 2000 Wildcats will consist of three sophomores, nine juniors and seven seniors. Seven returning players were starters in 1999.

Cushing is expecting more offense this season and expects big things from her forwards. Junior Janessa Mutchler, who scored three goals in a scrimmage on Friday against Bedford should help with the Wildcats' offense. Junior Stefany Quinton, who was one of the top three scorers on the team last season will be dangerous once again.

"They have real good speed and they play aggressively," said Cushing, commenting on Mutchler and Quinton. "They play the game 100 percent."

Junior Mariessa Surianello has played well so far in the pre-season and Cushing believes she will be a nice compliment to Mutchler and Quinton. Sophomore Leah DeMaggio, junior Lisa Antonengeli and junior Stephanie Winn add depth and speed to the forward position.

Midfield should be strong with senior co-captain Kim Gillespie leading the way. Gillespie played forward last year but has enjoyed the switch to the middle.

"It is not much of a change from how I played," said Gillespie. "I can still basically do what I did last year."

Senior co-captain Katelyn Sughrue adds leadership and strength to the midfield along with junior Jackie Rubino. The Wildcats' midfield should work well together considering there are two captains playing the position and Sughrue (pitcher) and Rubino (catcher) are batterymates in the spring.

Senior Caitlyn Bransfield, who has battled back injuries the passed two seasons, when healthy, is a welcomed sight on the playing field.

Defensively junior Katie Sullivan has received rave reviews from Cushing. Cushing said, "She has done an outstanding job for me. She will be valuable [defensively]."

Senior Bethany Mutchler will make opposing offenses work overtime.

Junior Kim Thomas is the Wildcats' sweeper and the last line of defense before opposing teams come one on one with sophomore goalkeeper Heather See and junior Sheri Thresher. Both See and Thresher will split time in goal.

Playing in the tough Cape Ann League is not an easy task for any team to have to face. So far this preseason the Wildcats have scored almost as many goals as they scored all of last season - NINE. If they continue to pop in goals during the regular season when the games count, Wilmington will be a team that we will continue to hear from, and one the Cape Ann League will want to silence.

"The girls look really good," said Cushing. "We have a good group of talent to work with."

Gillespie said, "We look good. I really think we will do better than last year."

That will be another welcomed change.

The season will get underway on September 6th with a home match-up against Masconomet. That will follow with an away game against Amesbury, who went undefeated last year in the CAL, on Friday, before returning home for the program's first game under the lights on Monday at 7:00 pm at WHS.

Free of comparisons, Diane Dellascio looks to lead 'Cats

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

It's never easy being a younger sibling over older athletes. It's totally unfair for everyone involved - comparisons or not.

For Diane Dellascio she knows she's always be compared to her sisters Lisa and Debbie who played soccer. She's used to it. They were both great players who both are within the top scorers of the program's history.

The only comparison this writer will make is Diane Dellascio certainly has already made her mark as a very good soccer player for Wilmington High School as did her sisters - whether or not she measures up to her sisters doesn't matter. Diane is going into her junior season, and not only is she the most skilled player on the team, she's an extremely talented soccer player who is minds of many will have a breakout season.

In her first two seasons Diane has slipped through the back door. She cracked the starting line-up as a freshman with a team that was loaded with juniors and seniors, one of them being her sister Lisa who is now playing at Salem State, and who head coach Sue Hendee really believes will be an All-American player by the time she graduates.

As a freshman Diane starred right away, and she worked diligently with her sister and the other talents on the team including Lindsay Bruno, who has the all-time scoring record in the program's history. That season, the team won several games in the state tournament before losing to North Reading. Diane certainly was a key member of that team.

Last year as a sophomore, expectations were very high as nine seniors were ready to accomplish bigger and better things. They didn't, but Diane did. Her gorgeous passes became even better, her knowledge of the game surpassed even more, while she started to get more confident, therefore she controlled a lot more of the game.

And now she enters her junior season as one of the team's forwards, with a young team that already has a relentless working habit.

"We're looking really good right now," she said. "We lost a lot of the older players but we have a lot of new talent. We really seem to be working really well together."

Diane admitted that it's going to be tough playing without Bruno, Kristen Kacamburas and company because she got so used to their playing styles. But already she said she is working very comfortably with senior Christine DeSimone, freshman Lauren Rappoli and sophomore Jen Leone to name a few.

"The sophomores are really good and our defense is pretty strong and the freshmen are good and tough. We really want to make the state tournament after missing out on it by one point last year. That was really sad and disappointing. But I think we're going to get stronger once we start playing together," said Diane.

Already in her two seasons, Diane has accumulated 11 goals and 10 assists for 21 points. Those 21 points are already eighth all-time in the program's history. Bruno leads with 59 points, while Lisa finished fifth all-time with 20 goals, 27 assists for 47 points. Diane knows she'll be looked upon to help score goals, but her game has always been passing and setting up the offense.

"Diane is going to have a very good year, I really believe that," said coach Sue Hendee. "She has that natural ability to play with anyone. She adapts very well to all different situations. She has the ability to put herself into space, receive the ball and give good passes."

"She's a very smart player and she makes it look so easy. But she's a very hard worker. She's very pesky on defense - when the other team has the ball she really puts her mind to it to get the ball back and create some scoring."

Diane says she learned a lot from her sisters - especially from Lisa who has really helped her in the game of soccer. She knows a lot of her knowledge came from their time playing the sport. She also has put a lot of pressure on herself to live up to what they were as high school athletes, which isn't fair to her, or her sisters. If Diane Dellascio plays the way she has over the next two years like she has in her last two years, she'll have nothing to worry about - because she'll leave Wilmington High as one heckuva soccer player.

Riley expects soccer team to turn things around

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Tim Riley has seen pretty much everything. The three-sport athlete has been on some winning teams, played in some big games, while, he has been on some teams that haven't fared well in the winning column.

On the soccer field, he's a very tough, hard-nosed defensive player and a real good one. He's the team sweeper - who in his four years has been on two North Sectional Title teams, while last year the team suffered with just six wins.

On the basketball court, he was the team's best defensive player the last player the opposing teams has to get around before getting to the goaltender.

"My job is to organize the defense, make sure the other flanker backs don't get beat. I'm the last line of defense."

Does he like that pressure?

"There is pressure especially after the last two sweepers we've had in Jeff Arciero and Mark DiGiovanni - both of them were great players."

Riley said the team just needs to be consistent and that will be the deciding factor of improving.

"Last year we came out flat a few times, not having the right intensity - we need to get going from the start and force [opponents] to make the mistakes," he said.

New team, new attitude, new goals

of them and she'll be the team's defensive-midfielder. Lemos is the team's stopper-back and Pidgeon, who played so well in the postseason in 1998 will also be looked upon to help.

"I'm hoping that our defense shuts down the number of shots Becky sees," said Hendee. "We were pretty young defensively last year and it's so obvious how much more confident the girls are this year. We want to give Becky more protection."

Besides the returning senior defenders, sophomores Michaela Rufo, Spry, Sullivan, as well as freshmen Jackie Spry, Emily Dorrance and Alison Flynn will also see some time in various positions. But the go-to player on the entire team is the lone junior on the squad, Diane Dellascio, who has 11 goals and 10 assists in her two years (see more on her in the sports section).

Diane follows sisters Debbie and Lisa are talented Dellascios to play for Hendee, and Diane is very talented. She'll be playing one of the forward positions as Hendee believes that will create more space for her to work with. Diane is a very good passer, who knows the game very well and knows where her teammates are at all times. She'll be looked upon to help score some goals and create the offense.

"She really puts her mind into creating some scoring," said Hendee. "She's a third year starter who has a lot of experience and I really think she's going to have a very good season."

Helping out on the forward line with Diane will be Leone at a wing, with senior Jen Michaud and freshman Ashley Steenbruggen.

As for who'll be getting the ball to the forwards, the team has several good promising midfielders. Freshman Lauren Rappoli has done extremely well and she and Stacy Comer, another solid freshman from a season ago, will be splitting the center-midfielder spot. Freshman Rachele See will be a midfielder/defensive back.

Seniors Jen McGowan, Kendal O'Dea and Kristen Pelletier bring experience and leadership to the table as they will be midfielders also. Senior Lisa Dineen will be the back-up goaltender.

The 'Cats open their season on September 6 at North Reading at 5:00 pm. Their first home game isn't until Tuesday, September 19th when Lynnfield comes to town.

Of the Cape Ann League teams, the usual suspects of Masconomet and North Andover should be right up there, while, teams like Pentucket, Hamilton-Wenham, North Reading, Newburyport, Lynnfield and Georgetown are all coming off of state tournament seasons.

Wilmington also hooked up with two non-league games with a potent Chelmsford club, and one game against what could be a very good Tewksbury team. So making it back to the state tournament will not be easy, but with the proper work ethic and attitude like the girls have now according to the Coach, half of the battle is won.

Boys Cross Country hopes to improve

By PAUL HAYES

Sports Correspondent

Normally, a coach would not be thrilled when their team has only three returning runners.

But Tom Bradley is ecstatic.

Despite the low number of returning runners, the Wilmington High School girls' cross country team enters this season with ten runners, its largest roster in over four years.

The number is up from last year's team of five runners, and the previous high of six since Bradley took over as team coach in 1996.

Add to that the fact the team is made up entirely of freshmen and sophomores, and you have the recipe for a potential powerhouse in the making, said Bradley.

The girls could have a very good team in a couple of years, they'll get better and better," said Bradley. But of course there is a condition. "They'll have to stay together."

Leading the way are returning sophomores and co-captains Michelle Brush and Meghan Fudge.

Brush last year set the course record as a freshman with a time of 20:57. Bradley expected her success will continue.

"She'll be one of the best in the league," said Bradley.

Sophomore Allison Fisher, also a returning runner, is recovering from an injury and is a couple of weeks away from returning to the team, said Bradley.

Newcomer sophomore Jackie Brown has had a strong preseason, and is projected as a top three runner. Brown joined the cross country this season after playing field hockey last year.

"She'll be a very good runner before she's done," said Bradley.

In addition to Brown, the team is bolstered by first time cross country runners sophomores Jen Jensen, Athena Karalekas and Brittany Diorio, and freshmen Lisa Martiniello, Jenna Patterson and Sarah Hodge.

Bradley said the Middle School cross country feeder program was a major reason for the girls' team's strong turnout. Bradley started the program two years ago.

This year the middle school cross country program has 18 runners, 9 boys and 9 girls. They kick off their five meet season on Sept. 19 at Palmer Park behind town hall.

Meanwhile the high school girls team starts their 11 meet season with a tri-meet at home against Newburyport and Triton Regional high schools on Monday, Sept. 11.

Bradley said the girls have a reasonable chance of improving upon last year's 3-8 record.

"Late in the year they will come on strong," said Bradley.

Brush to lead Girls Cross Country

The loss of veteran runners, and an influx of new runners, equals a rebuilding year for the Wilmington High School boys' cross country team.

After losing five top runners to graduation, the boys team enters this season with a roster made up of 60 percent freshman and sophomores.

"We lost most of the runners that had been the heart of our team," said coach Tom Bradley.

Leading the rebuilding effort will be senior captain and projected number one runner Scott Buck, and sophomore Nick Eaton. Buck and Eaton are the sole returning members of last year's varsity top seven.

They will be aided by senior Mike Reardon and freshman Shayne Coffey.

Reardon, who will be running his fourth season of cross country, has had a surprising preseason, according to Bradley.

"He's like a different runner," said Bradley.

Gaffney is a product of the middle school cross country feeder program, where he won every meet. Bradley started the program two years ago.

Bradley was concerned Gaffney might have difficulty making the transition from the 1.5 mile middle school races, to the 3 mile high school races. But Gaffney has performed well in practice.

"So far (the distance) is not a problem," said Bradley.

Also looking to make an impact are returning runners senior Mike Parisi, junior Tim Robillard, and sophomores Greg Buck and Jordan Weiner.

New to the team this year are sophomores Pat Taylor and Dan Vasallo, and freshmen Jay Siulla and Dan Hurley.

Bradley indicated the team may not surpass last year's 5-6 record, but said he received encouragement over the summer.

Buck and Gaffney placed first and second in the ages 14-19 division at the Showcase Classic 5 mile road race in North Reading on August 26. Bradley said it was a sign of what his runners could do.

"We'll get better as the season goes on," said Bradley.

The team opens the season on Monday, Sept. 11 with a tri-meet at home against Newburyport and Triton.

Bradley said the early meets will be treated as "extended training" for an inexperienced team.

"I'm not concerned with early meets, we'll treat (them) as training," said Bradley.

He said this year's team is emphasizing long distance training over speed workouts, an approach he expects will pay off towards the end of the season.

"I expect dramatic improvement," he said.

Local Burger King leads Jimmy Fund fundraiser

WILMINGTON - The Wilmington Burger King* restaurant located at 280 Lowell Street raised $8,097 out of the total of $290,000 that was presented to the Jimmy Fund in an on-field ceremony at Fenway Park.

These funds, which are designated to support cancer research and treatment at the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, were raised during Burger King's "A Chance for Kids" program, which ran for six weeks in June and July.

Thanks to loyal and enthusiastic customer support, the Wilmington Burger King ranked first out of more than 300 participating restaurants, in dollars raised.

The program allowed customers to contribute $1 to the Jimmy Fund and receive a scratch ticket guaranteed to be a winner. Burger King customers won prizes ranging from Frozen Coca-Cola* to a new Hyundai. This year's program marks the first year of the partnership between New England Burger Kings and the Jimmy Fund.

"The enthusiasm of the restaurants, their employees, and their customers helped get this program off the ground and made it an extremely successful first-year fundraising effort," said Mike Andrews, Chairman of the Jimmy Fund. "We welcome the entire New England Burger King family as a partner in the effort to find a cure for cancer."

READY TO BEGIN. Wilmington Pop Warner will be home this Sunday to start its season. (Joe Haakey photo)

Mites capture state title

Ending the regular season with an 8-1 record, the Wilmington Mite II hockey team faced off against the second place NS Stars of Stoneham at the Chelmsford Forum Saturday, August 26, 2000.

As the team that handed Wilmington its only loss in the season opener with a come from behind, third period victory, the NS Stars were looking to upset Wilmington again.

After a hard skating, scoreless first period, which included strong defensive play and outstanding saves in net from both teams, Wilmington's offensive lines came to life in period two. Three quick goals were scored by the Wilmington squad to open the second period. The NS Stars team never gave up, pressing their attack through the period and were rewarded with a goal before the buzzer sounded to end the second period.

In the third period, the two teams skated tough, matching goal for goal upping the score to 5-3. With just under two minutes to play, the NS Stars pulled their goalie and launched an all-out attack, but the Wilmington defense refused to break and withstood the assault to capture the championship title.

The team had an enjoyable summer season facing off against teams from Nashua, NH, Billerica, Stoneham and Wilmington in the regular season. Thanks go to coaches Chuck Barbero, Kevin Creedon and Paul Duffey for their time, leadership and commitment to provide a fun and rewarding summer season for the boys.

Adult synchronized skaters being sought

The Colonials-Adults Synchronized Skating team is recruiting for new members for next season.

Tryouts will be held Friday, September 8 from 8:25 to 9:55 p.m. in rink 3 at the Nashoba Valley Olympia, Rt. 111, Boxborough, MA. Prior experience on a synchronized team is not required but eligible skaters must demonstrate good command of skating fundamentals. A willingness to learn and become part of a team is most important, along with a positive attitude.

Synchronized skating is the fastest growing skating discipline in figure skating and may one day become an Olympic event. It is gaining recognition in the media as a sport of beauty and grace, but much different from freestyle, pairs, or dance. The sport is emerging as an opportunity for many skaters, by giving them a chance to compete in a national, or international competition, which they may not have achieved on their own.

Colonial FSC offers the most comprehensive adult skating program in the Boston area. There are adult ballet and edge classes, and adult freestyle and moves in the field sessions conveniently scheduled on evenings and weekends. Our adult skating members regularly enjoy special seminars, events, adult skating exhibitions, and our own adult skating newsletter, the Colonial Blade. We offer a friendly team environment, so, come see if synchronized skating is right for you.

Registration information for tryouts is available in the information racks throughout the rink, by contacting the Colonial Office at 978-263-3450, or check out the Colonial website at www.colonialfsc.com for an application.

Khoury gets certified in Dallas

The prestigious Cooper Institute for Aerobics Research in Dallas, Texas, recently certified Sensei Gary J. Khoury, owner of Khoury's Karate Academy, 553 Main St., Tewksbury in its American Council on Martial Arts (ACMA) Instructor Certification Exam.

In passing the exam, part of a three day national martial arts convention in Clearwater, Florida, Khoury became one of the first martial artist in the United States to be certified by the world-renowned fitness institution.

The Cooper Institute's endorsement of the ACMA Instructor certification program provides unprecedented credibility for martial arts with both the academic/scientific community and the health and fitness industry. Essentially, the Institute's recognition of the ACMA initiative propels martial arts from a "fringe" to a mainstream activity.

The Cooper Institute was founded by Dr. Kenneth Cooper, the highly acclaimed "father of fitness." Dr. Cooper's landmark 1968 book, Aerobics, launched the entire cardiovascular health and fitness movement. His institute is now regarded as one of the most prestigious and well recognized scientific facilities in the world.

Sensei Khoury passed two stringent exams to earn his ACMA certification credentials. In preparation for the tests, he attended workshops by Cooper specialists on body composition, fitness evaluations, fitness goal setting, and other subjects related to the health and fitness aspects of martial arts training.

Of the process Khoury said, "This kind of ongoing training and certification is absolutely essential for professionals in the martial arts field. These days, people want to know that qualified instructors are teaching them and their children. Now, with ACMA certification, the public can know in an instant if a karate teacher has what it takes to help them succeed in the martial arts."

Sensei Khoury teaches traditional karate to nearly 300 members at his Main Street facility in Tewksbury. Each year, his academy holds a charitable fundraiser to assist area youth.

P.A.L. Hoop tourney this Sunday

To see if the Town will vote to amend the Zoning Bylaw Section 4.9 Community Development District, Section 4.9.4 Site Plan Special Permit Requirements, paragraph (2) From:

(2) Acreage devoted to Adult Day Care and/or Independent Living Facilities shall not comprise more than sixty-five percent of the development's acreage devoted to such use. The remaining acreage must be reserved for Long-Term Care Facility and/or Assisted Living Facility use. If the Planning Board makes findings of fact it will benefit the residents or the Town that to increase the minimum requirements of open space and/or assist a greater proportion of elderly Tewksbury residents, the requirements of this paragraph may be modified.

MICHAEL OVERDORF, CHIEF executive officer of Innosight stands in front of the company's new world headquarters Woburn's historic 1790 House. The internet company is on the cutting edge of today's business world as was Colonel Loammi Baldwin, one time owner of the house and the designer of the Middlesex Canal. The canal was completed in 1803 and flows just a few feet to the right of the building.

Future meets past at 1790 House Woburn's new "epicenter of innovation"

By DOUG WOOD-BOYLE

There is an exciting merger of old and new that is about to take place in the North End of Woburn this week as an innovative new company readies to move into one of the city's old and historic buildings.

Innosight, a 10 month-old company that is already poised to make some big changes in the way other companies do business, will be taking over the entire 1790 House which sits between Kiwanis Park and the Middlesex Canal.

The significance of the move is that Innosight, associated with Harvard Business School, is based on the principles set out by one of the most innovative people in today's business world, Dr. Clayton Christensen. The 1790 House was once owned by Colonel Loammi Baldwin, best known for his designs of the Middlesex Canal which allowed a profitable trade route between Boston and Lowell.

Dr. Christensen, the company's founder, is the author of "The Innovator's Dilemma" (Harvard Business School Publishing Company) a book that is fast becoming a bible in today's business community. Michael Overdorf, chief executive officer of Innosight describes Christensen as "a rock star of the business world."

The Harvard professor lists Bill Gates as a part of his social circle, as well as other top

ANTHONY MANCONI

When my cousins, Michael and Domenic Quaganti, told their mother that they had joined the, Borah Minivitch's Harmonica Rascals and were going to tour the burlesque theater circuit, she was really upset. She took the boys into the parlor (reserved in those days for christenings, weddings, and funerals) "My sons" she shouted, "are going to leave this house to be with drunks, chorus girls and strippers and go on their wild parties!" Uncle Angelo, (their father) hearing everything from another room, rushed in and pleaded, "Take me with you sons, P-L-E-A-S-E!"

Kathy told the doctor last week that, when she gets up in the morning she's dizzy for a half hour, then she's okay for the rest of the day. The doctor told her, "the remedy is simple-just get up a half hour LATER."

Insurance statistics prove that men who kiss their wives every morning before going to work will live at least 10 years longer than those who don't. Well, folks, if that is true, then my next door neighbor will live to be a hundred. Take this morning for instance, he kissed his wife as he went out the door, he kissed her again before getting into his car, later he rolled down the window kissed his wife again and backed out of the driveway. He drove up to where I was standing waiting for my car pool an exclaimed, "Hey Chipper you look so surprised, don't 'you' do that every morning?" "Why the heck should I?" I shouted "I don't even know your wife!"

Do you look like a New England Cowboy

Have you ever been accused of being a New England Cowboy or do you just look like one? In preparation for the upcoming Shriner's Rodeo of Champions weekends the Aleppo Shrine in Wilmington, has announced their 1st annual New England Cowboy Photo Contest.

Folks from all over the Northeast are encouraged to take a 3x5 photo or larger of themselves or their children in their best western garb. The photo's will be judged in the following categories.

Best Adult New England Cowboy (21 or older)

Best Adult New England Cowgirl (21 or older)

Local chapter changes name

The Merrimack Valley Chapter of FEMALE has announced its new name, Mothers & More.

Although the change heralds the beginning of a more inclusive name, the mission of the organization has not changed.

Mothers & More continues to support sequencing mothers-women who have altered their career paths in order to care for their children at home.

Mothers & More is an international not-for-profit organization supporting sequencing mothers. Since 1987, it has grown to more than 180 chapters and more than 7500 members worldwide.

For more information call Amy at 978-851-8501 or Kelley at 978-851-3702.

Best Young Adult New England Cowboy (13 to 20 years old)

Best Young Adult New England Cowgirl (13 to 20 years old)

Best Child New England Cowboy (infant to 12 years old)

Best Child New England Cowgirl (infant to 12 years old)

Best New England Cow-family

Best New England Cow-Pet

Winners will be chosen by the reining Miss Rodeo USA, Marjon Brady of Mesa, Arizona, during the week of September 18th. Winners will be notified by mail. Please write on the back, name, address, day time and evening phone number, and the category you wish to enter.

Winners in each category will receive 4 tickets to a rodeo event of their choice: September 23rd or 24th, the Rodeo of Champions; September 29th, 30th or October 1st the IPRA NE Regional Finals. Many of the photo entries will be displayed at the Shriner's Auditorium during the rodeo events.

About The Towns

by Phyllis Nissen

Mollie sparkles for Reading

"Home is where the heart is whether it is in Morgantown, West Virginia or Reading, Mass.," notes the Reading edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"While we respect novelist Thomas C. Wolfe's opinions, we disagree with him. Wolfe wrote 'You can never go home again.' Maybe it depends on how you define 'home,' Mary (Mollie) Ziegler not only can, but is going home again after 31 productive years in our town where she has worn so many volunteer hats her closet can't possibly hold them all.

"This dynamo of a volunteer was born in Winchester, Virginia, and grew up in Morgantown, West Virginia, where her dad was a professor at West Virginia University. She and her husband Eugene (Gene) moved to Reading in 1969 when he transferred to another GE plant in Massachusetts.

"The Ziegler's made our town their home, but unlike many housewives who aren't employed, this lady has seen a need, reached out and touched many Reading citizens with her exemplary and extensive volunteer work. Has there been a zenith - a rocky mountain high as the late John Denver wrote about in his famous country/western song? The writer was casting about for an outstanding anecdote, and after explaining what he needed, by golly Ms. Mollie said, 'I've got one.' Ureka, she hit the memory button. Return to the pre-charter days when Proposition 2 1/2 was a hot button topic.

"The lady who has been organizing and orchestrating the Ziegler's move to West Virginia says, 'We were only allowed to raise our property tax 13 percent. I was chairman of the Finance Committee and was invited by the Assessors to go to Boston to meet with the (MA) Department of Revenue. Before they could discuss anything they said we could have our valuation raised immediately to 100 percent because our Assessor records were so good.' The lady with the infectious laugh served on the Finance Committee 1975-1982 and was chairman for 1 1/2 years.

"Where and when did her volunteer work in our town begin? The volunteer with the 'sort of Pennsylvania Dutch background' says, 'I was service unit chairman of the Girl Scouts, and (participated in) Adventures in Music, and was active in the school volunteer staff.' Once Mollie got her volunteer feet wet she had so much fun she never bothered to dry them off. In fact, she looked ahead and forward to serving in local government and her church - The First Congregational Church (UCC) of Reading...."

Thomas shines in Wilmington

"Here is a man who is definitely not afraid of needles," notes the "Wilmington Town Crier."

Hometown heroes light the way

"To the American Red Cross, Wilmington resident Thomas Convery is what the organization calls one of its 'Hometown

Heroes,' somebody who has donated blood often and shows continued commitment to helping his fellow man stay healthy. To those who have needed blood over the years, he may not only be considered a hometown hero, he may be considered a lifesaver as well.

"In early 1999, Convery asked Pam Levensailor, an American Red Cross Charge Nurse, how many times in one year a single donor could give blood. Levensailor didn't so much answer Convery's question as she did challenge him.

"In 1997 I donated blood six times,' Convery recently told the Red Cross. 'In 1998 I donated blood six times as well. I wanted to donate seven times in one year, but Pam said that it was impossible. I wanted to prove her wrong.'

"He did. Levensailor's challenge was precisely the shot in the arm that Convery needed, for in 1999 he donated blood an astonishing seven times.

"Levensailor had maintained that a donor could only donate blood six times a year because that is all a donor's health would permit. So where did Convery find the loophole that afforded him one extra trip to the Red Cross clinic last year?

"I went home and got my calendar out," says Convery. 'I figured out that if I were to go donate blood within the first ten days of the new year, then I would still be eligible to also go donate blood every eight weeks throughout 1999. That's how I was able to donate seven times...."

Hope floats through Wakefield

"Lake Quannapowitt will, once again be aglow on Sunday, September 24, 2000 as the town of Wakefield kicks off its second Annual Light the Night Walk," notes the "Wilmington Town Crier."

"The event is a 2-3 mile evening walk of hope featuring illuminated balloons to commemorate lives touched by cancer. The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society, formerly the Leukemia to form teams to walk in this unique event. There is no registration fee, but those raising $25 or more will carry one of The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society's illuminated balloons. Cancer survivors will carry white balloons and lead the walk as a symbol of hope, while participants will carry red balloons as a symbol of support. In addition, Dedication Banners will be displayed to give everyone an opportunity to place a name or message in honor or in memory of a family member or friend with cancer.

"Registration begins at 4:30 p.m. at Lake Quannapowitt in Wakefield and the walk will begin promptly at 6:30 p.m. Register by calling 800-688-6572 or online at www.maleukemia-lymphoma.org...."

Innosight/1790 house

names in the world of computer hardware and software.

Although the company, which is 40 percent owned by Harvard Business School Publishing Company, was only formed in January, it already has an impressive client list including some old line names such as Eastman Kodak, Merrill Lynch, and Hallmark. These have been joined by more modern concept companies such as Intel and EMC, a data storage manager.

Overdorf called EMC, "The largest single employer in Massachusetts."

As far as employment goes, Innosight presently has 18 people on staff with plans to increase to 30 or 35 people once the move has been completed.

According to Overdorf, the formation of the company was done as a "better way to publish Dr. Christensen's ideas."

Based on the concepts Christensen expounds in his book, Overdorf said the company now offers three lines of service to their clients.

They are based on the fact that old line companies need to find innovative ideas with which to compete with newer companies that are revolutionizing the business world. The problem is that innovation can cause disruption and therefore a pathway needs to be found to minimize the effects of the disruption.

The first service is a conference business which will deal with market investors and show them how to make choices on which stocks and bonds to invest in.

The second service provides a consortium with Harvard Business School. According to Overdorf, management teams, representing all levels, from six companies at a time can be brought to the School to write reports and receive analysis on the progress their companies are making.

The third, is described by Overdorf as a "web technology tool."

"This is not just a website," Overdorf stressed, "it is on-line technology."

Overdorf describes it as "almost like a digital image of Christensen's brain."

A company pamphlet states, "As its name implies, Innosight is focused upon improving companies' abilities to innovate with an emphasis on building new growth business through disruptive technologies. Each month four electronic journals are distributed to Innosight members."

"The first introduces an insight or principle of disruptive innovation that has emerged from Innosight's ongoing research."

"The second presents an in-depth case study that gives a tangible example of an industry that is grappling with disruptive issues. Its purpose is to help members of the innovative community within each membership company to see, by analogy, how they might use those insights to address their own innovative challenges."

"In the third week, we suggest specific implementation steps that managers can use to put those insights into action."

"In week four, Clayton addresses questions and comments submitted by members of the Innosight community."

Overdorf said, "We see ourselves as disrupting traditional ly published consultants and educating the industry."

He added, "We use the book as a bible. We very much follow along (Christensen's) strategy."

"While helping other companies with their problems we practice what we preach."

One way of practicing what they preach is to recognize the need for the human factor in the use of technology and passing this along to their member companies.

"There are still fundamentals of business that need to be followed," Overdorf said.

One of those fundamentals that Innosight practices carefully is to recognize that the company is, for the most part, self funded and the need is there not to overspend its cash flow.

The fact that such a modern-style company is to be headquartered in such an historic building is not totally by chance.

Overdorf said that when it came time to find an office space they researched the real estate companies they would be dealing with and made sure those companies realized that Innosight was not just "two guys working out of a garage."

One of the first realizations they came to was that a traditional office space divided by little cubicles would not fit their style.

"We wanted a space as unique as what we are trying to do," Overdorf said.

With the fact that some of the people in the company are old house aficionados, it was apparent that when the 1790 House came on the rental market it at least deserved an inspection and consideration.

MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA QUESTION: What future Hall of famer gave up Willie Mays' first home run, in 1951? Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

WINCHESTER'S JESSICA DELANEY AND RICH MAGGIO will both compete on the University of Massachusetts at Dartmouth men's and women's lacrosse teams this year.

BURLINGTON'S ERIN BURNS will head up the women's tennis team at Stonehill College this year.

THE MERRIMACK VALLEY TWISTERS will be holding tryouts for their 2001 girls fastpitch softball season for their 12u, 14u and 16u teams on the following dates: September 16 at memorial Field in Tewksbury, September 17 at West Intermediate School in Andover, September 23 at Wilmington High School, and September 24 at memorial Field in Tewksbury. 12u tryouts will be held at noon, 14u tryouts at 2 pm, and 16u tryouts at 4 pm. The Merrimack Valley Twisters formed a 14u team in 1999 and won four major tournaments in Fort Devens, Chelmsford, Laconia and the Mass state NSA Championship. They qualified for the NSA Nationals twice that summer. This past summer the Twisters 14u team won the Mass state ASA Championship, the Methuen Tournament and travelled to the Pony East Zone championships in Sterling, Virginia, after winning the Pony Qualifier in Fitchburg.

Prizes are awarded to each division for first, second and third, low gross, low net, and last place. Scores are calculated using the league point system. A weekly newsletter will be distributed. The cost of the program is $115. Interested participants can register by calling the Reading Recreation Department at 942-9075 or by stopping by Town Hall in Reading at 16 Lowell Street.

WOBURN'S SEAN MALONE had two goals and one assist as a freshman member of the Merrimack College men's soccer team in a 6-0 win over Molloy in the PUMA/Warrior Invitational to kickoff the 2000 season.

Need some clues to help out with the above-mentioned trivia question? His first name is Warren.

THE NORTH READING YOUTH SOCCER GIRLS' U-12 A TEAM ended a great season this summer by winning the Commissioner's Cup Championship. The team finished at 6-1-3 during the regular season, than posted wins over Concord, Tewksbury, and a tie with Billerica to take the title.

TEWKSBURY'S BRENDAN STOKES, a participant in the 13-and-under AAU National Baseball Championships in Kingston, North Carolina, was named to the all-tourney team.

BURLINGTON'S ANN-MARIE YUTKINS, a junior member of the Merrimack College women's soccer team, had an assist in a 9-0 win over

New Haven to kickoff the 2000 campaign. In the same game, WILMINGTON'S LINDSAY BRUNO, a freshman, scored one of the game's final three goals.

ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: The player was Warren Spahn.

BREASTFEEDING TOPIC LA LECHE MEETINGS

When you breastfeed your baby, you are providing him with the best possible infant food Breast milk provides all the nutrients your newborn needs and is more easily digested and assimilated. As reassuring as this is, superior nutrition is only one of the many advantages you and your baby gain for breastfeeding.

These topics will be explored on Friday September 8 at 10 am when La Leche League of Wilmington (formerly LLI of Reading) meets to discuss "The Advantages of Breastfeeding" at the Winchester Hospital Family Medical Center, 500 Salem Street (Rt. 62), Wilmington. Meetings are held the 2nd Friday of each month. Women from surrounding towns are welcome.

This meeting is the first in the current series of four monthly meetings open to nursing mothers and their babies as well as pregnant and other interested women. The discussion is informal with opportunity to ask questions and share experiences. The group maintains a lending library of books on breastfeeding, childbirth and childcare.

For directions, further information or encouragement, please call one of the group leaders: Karen (978-657-8301), or Sharon (978-694-1012) or Terry (978-694-1073).

Heart Association

Free CPR training course offered

The American Heart Association will conduct a free community wide CPR training on Saturday, September 9th at Merrimack College in North Andover. The class, open to the public, will run from 9am to 12:30 pm. Qualified volunteer instructors will teach participants the skills needed to perform basic adult CPR.

"CPR is a simple skill that can help you save a life," says Capt. George Murphy, a veteran instructor with Boston EMS and an American Heart Association volunteer. "Yet only two percent of the American lay public know the procedure. Increasing the number of Americans who are CPR trained is critical if we are to raise the survival rate for cardiac arrests. A jump from 5 percent, the current survival rate for cardiac arrest, to 20 percent would save 50,000 lives a year."

Cardiac arrest occurs when the heart's pumping chambers suddenly contract ineffectively, reducing the flow of blood to vital organs. The causes of cardiac arrest vary and include heart disease, drowning and electrical shock. Usually fatal, cardiac arrest kills more than 250,000 Americans every year.

CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) allows a layperson to respond in a cardiac emergency. A sequence of mouth-to-mouth breathing and chest compressions, CPR can restart the heart, restoring blood circulation. When performed quickly and properly, CPR can prevent brain injury or death due to lack of oxygen, buying the victim time until medical help arrives. It is a vital link in what the AHA calls the four-step "Chain of Survival", early recognition and access to 911, early CPR, early defibrillation, and early access to advanced medical care.

Anyone interested in attending the free training is encouraged to register in advance by calling the American Heart Association's office at 1-800-662-1701 ext. 3184. On-site registration is also available, space permitting. All participants will receive a free CPR training book and a course participation card.

Substance Abuse Hotline

The Massachusetts Substance Abuse Information and Education Helpline announced today the launch of a new, searchable Internet-based Drug and Alcohol Prevention and Treatment Director at www.Helpline-Online.Com. The online service helps people seeking help for themselves or others with the information to find the nearest treatment facilities that are licensed, certified, or otherwise approved by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, Bureau of Substance Abuse Services.

Complementing the organization's 24-hour telephone Helpline (800-327-5050), the online database responds to an urgent community need for centralized treatment information.

"Information is a necessary ingredient for recovery. People need a supportive environment to explore available resources and viable options. The directory at www.Helpline-Online.Com gives them that information quickly and accurately from the privacy of their own home or office," said Gary Lever, Project Coordinator of the Helpline.

The user-friendly and confidential directory allows site visitors to search resources statewide by geographic area or by type of treatments available. Site information includes detoxification programs, methadone programs, residential programs and outpatient counseling programs.

The site is unique in that it provides more than a phone number. Helpline staff compiled thousands of details on treatment providers, including service and population types, languages spoken and even accepted forms of payment.

Folks, when was the last time you saw, girls jump-roping, boys playing marbles, kids on your street playing Hide and Go Seek, a man tipping his hat as a lady walking by, someone saying "THANK YOU?"

Chiquita Banana may divorce her husband. She thought she was the "Top Banana" in his life BUT found out SHE is only ONE of a "Bunch."

Book of the month, A run to the Outhouse by "Willie Makit." After Gina Alois's class sang that delightful tune, the old Grey Mare" Gina asked, does anyone know that an old grey mare is? Johnny Driscoll said, "I think it's the man in City Hall who runs the city."

Super TV Ads, the Alfac Ad and the Bent Rabbit Ears, a MacDonald's ad.

My new friend Peter Alphas is a veritable Greek Adonis.

George Gould's doctor asked, "Well George, what do you think is WRONG with you today?" "I don't know Doctor," George replied.

E.B. Rideout was the best radio weatherman. He didn't need Maps, Charts and Graphs and he wasn't concerned about Highs and Lows or how, the wind will blow, he just said it

MDC holds plant sale

The Middlesex Conservation District is holding a cash sale of excess plant stock on September 23rd at the 4-H County Fairgrounds in Westford. MCD is offering bulbs and perennials. They will also have container grown Azalea and Rhododendron from Weston Nurseries.

Perennials include red, white and pink peonies, reblooming Irises, and a collection of mini Daylilies.

Bulbs include 14 varieties of Daffodils, including one with an 18" perfect, double glistening white flower. 18 varieties of Tulips, some with double blooms, some tiny and some fragrant. Hyacinths, Crocuses, and some interesting new bulbs.

To receive a complete listing of plants please send a STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED ENVELOPE to:

MCD-PLANT LISTING, 319 Littleton Road, Suite 205 Westford, MA 01886, 508-692-9395.

Or FAX your request for information to 1-978-392-1305. Send for your listing today.

Richie Gillis returned a Hammock he got as a present because he has only "ONE TREE" on his lawn.

O' Kay so you want to be a radio announcer? Well say this without stumbling and you are in like Flynn, "A BOX OF BISCUITS - A BOX OF MIXED BISCUITS an a BISCUIT MIXER." If you quality the powerful little Five Watter in Nashville Tennessee need you.

Father Bill Ferruzzi after a Fire and Brimstone sermon said, "all those who want to go to Heaven, STAND up!" Everyone sprang up except one little old timer in the first pew. Father Bill walked over to him, put his arm around his shoulders and asked, "don't you want to go to heaven when you die?" "OH!" the much relieved old timer replied, "I thought YOU were making up a BUS-LOAD Now."

School Notes

by Phyllis Nissen

Back to school and ahead with new plans, policies, procedures

Almost unanimous in Burlington

"With a change in the graduation requirements, the School Committee voted to officially accept the Burlington High School improvement plan," notes the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"The change in the graduation requirements is that English as a Second Language students will not be required to take two years of a foreign language."

"That passed unanimously. Overall acceptance of the improvement plan was approved on a 4-1 vote with Christine Monaco dissenting. Monaco questioned some of the confidentiality aspects of the school's school harassment policy."

"Gaining approval on a unanimous vote was the improvement plan for Fox Hill School."

"Principal Richard Benowitz said the plan includes a number of maintenance projects, though if more funds were available, the school council would like to expand that list."

"He said maintaining class sizes, particularly in the lower grades, remains a priority."

"Benowitz said the council has established a goal having 'experts-in-residence' programs to instruct students in various areas."

"There will also be a number of technology initiatives at the school, Benowitz told the committee."

With some reservations in Woburn

"With some reservations expressed, the School Committee unanimously voted to approve changes to the National Honor Society requirements at Woburn High School," notes the Woburn edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"The changes would apply to students starting with the class of 2004."

"Earlier this year, the requirements for participation in both the National Junior Honor Society were reviewed and changes made; eligibility requirements were tightened and made consistent at the two middle schools."

"Minimum requirements are established by both the National Junior Honor Society and the National Honor Society, but school districts may impose tougher criteria if they choose. A vote of the school faculty is required."

"At the School Committee meeting, Assistant Supt. for Curriculum Dr. Louise Nolan noted the high school requirements had been reviewed by faculty parents, School Council and administrators, who also reviewed the eligibility requirements of 'several Middlesex League high schools and the National Honor Society's Charter.'"

"The following guidelines were proposed: Membership in the National Honor Society will be for seniors only. Members will apply after the junior year. (Currently, students may apply beginning in their sophomore year.)"

"Academic requirements: Members of the National Honor Society must maintain a B final grade in all subjects in order to be a member of the society. Students may not have any grade lower than a C- during the four terms. All courses will be included in the requirement. Membership will consider the end of year grades for 9th, 10th and 11th grade courses. (Currently, students taking an extra course load are allowed to drop their lowest grade. That practice will be eliminated, Nolan said, as students should be encouraged to only take the courses they will be putting effort into.)"

"Character, leadership and service will be evaluated through the application form and letter(s) of recommendation. Students must show proof of community service during their high school years."

"Nolan said she was recommending approval."

"School Committee member Denis Russell said he didn't think the recommendations 'addressed the issue that's been haunting us...the weight of a grade in an AP versus some other course.'"

"Russell is of the opinion that a grade in an AP course should carry more weight than the same grade in an honors or standard level course."

"Have they not looked at it?" he asked.

"They have looked at it," Nolan said, but generally the belief is 'students are in those courses because they have the ability to do the work...and should be able to maintain a B...'"

Full steam ahead in Lynnfield

"The School Committee members have decided upon their sub-committee and liaison assignments for 2000-2001," notes the "Lynnfield Villager."

"They are as follows:

"Budget, Janice Confalone and Jim Dillon; legislative liaison, Dorothy Presser and Tim Doyle; Capital Needs Building Committee, Dorothy Presser; and liaison to the Finance Committee, Board of Selectmen and Personnel Board, Janice Confalone."

"Policy Review Committee, Jim Dillon and Tim Doyle; health advisory liaison, Dorothy Presser; technology liaison, Tim Doyle; Community Schools Board, Tim Doyle; and payroll, Faith Van Dusen."

"School Council liaison, Faith Van Dusen and Janice Confalone; Superintendent's goals, Jim Dillon and Dorothy Presser; Business Coalition liaison, Tim Doyle; negotiations, all members; sick bank, Jim Dillon; and curriculum, Faith Van Dusen and Janice Confalone."

If you'd like to read about your favorite school, student or teacher in "School Notes," please send school newsletters and other relevant information to Phyllis Nissen, "School Notes," Middlesex East Supplement, Box 240, Reading, MA 01867. We welcome student writing.

At Park Playhouse "Mornings at Seven"

In 1980 the New York Post called Paul Osborn's "Mornings at Seven" one of the most wickedly funny plays on Broadway. This delightful slice of Americana opens the 2000-2001 season at the Burlington Players' Park Playhouse, running September 8-9, 14-16 at 8 pm, Sept. 10 and 17 at 7 pm, and Sept. 10 at 2 pm. Tickets are $12-15, with discounted seats available for seniors and students at $10-12. To reserve tickets call 781-229-2649.

Written in 1939 and revived on Broadway in 1980 to great critical and popular acclaim, "Mornings at Seven" is about the Gibbs sisters, who have lived in close proximity all their lives - maybe too close. Though entering their "golden years," the sisters' lives are still filled with romance, sibling rivalry, identity crises, and just a hint of scandal. When the 40 year old son of one sister finally considers moving out of his mother's house and marrying his patient and very long time fiancée, all these conflicts reach a giddy, laugh-filled peak.

"Mornings at Seven" is directed by Dave Sheppard, assisted by Mark Baumhardt.

The talented cast Sheppard and Baumhardt have selected includes Burlington veterans

David Bojarczuk, Bennett Delatizky, Karen Dervin, Margaret McCarty, and Dennis Nee and newcomers Arthur Comegno, Christine Connor, Tara Donoghue, and Juree James. The show is produced by Jo Graney and Connie McCarthy. Designers include Kathy Campbell on set and lights, Tim Rose on sound, Michelle Wood for makeup and Jan MacPherson coordinating costumes. Michelle Gillis stage manages.

The Burlington season continues with the classic, much acclaimed "The Diary of Anne Frank" in November, "March's production of the slice of life comedy/drama, "and Miss Reardon Drinks a Little", and the season finale Tom Stoppard's madcap period farce, "On The Razzle" in May. Subscriptions for full season are on sale now. Subscribers get four shows for the price of three, a 25% savings over the single ticket price.

The Burlington Players are an all-volunteer, adult community theater. All auditions are open, volunteers for technical and production work are very welcome and mentoring is available for those with limited experience. For more information call 781-229-2649.

Community Singers now looking for new members

If you enjoy singing, live within driving distance of Reading Square (we have members from all over the North Shore) and can spare two hours a week on Tuesday evenings, come join the Community Singers.

There are no other requirements - no auditions, no special expertise of any kind. If you cannot read music, you will learn. They sing in four parts - soprano, alto, tenor and bass and the music they perform is wonderfully varied. It ranges from classical such as selections from Handel's Messiah - to pop to Broadway show tunes to jazz to blues to folk and everything in between.

The Reading Community Singers was founded 80 years ago and began life as the Reading Choral Society. It is believed that it's the oldest singing group in continuous existence in the United States. They currently number around 50 men and women of all ages and are fortunate to have four strong sections and most fortunate to have the director who was originally hired for the new group, Deborah Smith.

The particulars: rehearsals for September 12. They rehearse every Tuesday from 7:30 to 9:30 pm from Sept. 12th until the holiday concerts on December 2nd and 3rd. Rehearsals then resume in January, for the spring concert which will be held the first Saturday of May.

They rehearse in the basement of the Old South Church in Reading Square at the junction of Route 28 (Main Street and Route 129 (Lowell Street)). For further information call Myrna at 781-942-4977 or 781-438-4379 or just come join in on Tuesday evening, September 12th.

REAL ESTATE SAMPLER

This Week...
North Reading

One Strawberry Lane

This North Reading "Sampler" exudes spaciousness, warmth and plenty of charm.

When this home was custom built by its present owners in 1969, it offered many classic features that ensure value and some features that were well ahead of their time.

Upon entry note that every floor is hardwood or ceramic tile (in the kitchen and baths). An enormous living room is found to the left of the entry and offers a brick fireplace, Pella windows as well as hardwood floors.

A full bath, (with shower) is situated off the main entry. The kitchen is large and boasts a separate island, original dark Quaker Maid cabinets, a food processor and Sub Zero refrigerator. A breakfast area and second entry separate the kitchen from the enormous "Great Room".

Measuring over four hundred square feet alone, this room sports a brick walled fireplace with beehive stove and heating element. Both the breakfast area and the great room offer views of the gorgeous back yard and in-ground pool through multiple Pella windows.

Traveling up the stairway to the second floor, there are three extra spacious bedrooms each with oversized closets and hardwood floors. On this floor, there are two new bathrooms in black and white tile. The master bathroom is quite large and houses a whirlpool tub with windows, which overlook the pool and private back yard.

This home is located in a superb enclave known as "Strawberry Acres" on a builder's acre lot near North Reading Center and all major routes.

For more information or to set up your Private tour please call Nancy Delaney at Private Properties 978-664-0707.

This spacious and warm custom home is located on a builders' acre lot, near North Reading Center. Contact Private Properties for more information.

The master bath boasts a whirlpool tub with windows that overlook the private backyard pool area.

Buying a new house?

You're tired of renting. In the long run it's cheaper to buy a house anyway. So why not? Because buying a home can become a tedious, tiring process. At some point it surely becomes a situation of buyer beware.

But if you are thoroughly educated about the real estate market, buying can be a breeze. The experts at Geo Property.com part of the Geo Portals family offer user-friendly Web sites, have these tips to help get you started.

- Enlist the services of a competent real estate agent. Pick one that you feel comfortable with, recommended to you by people you trust, to guide you through this complex process. The agent can provide details about home prices, schools, tax rates, utilities, amenities, civic issues and more. Realtors also arrange each visit and conduct the on-site tour, perhaps in conjunction with the seller. There's no fee for this as agents work on commission.

- Consider how much you can afford. Your monthly housing costs including mortgage principal and interest, property taxes, and mortgage insurance should total no more than 25-28 percent of your monthly gross (before tax) income. Your monthly housing costs plus other longterm debts like payments on car loans, alimony or child support, payments on credit cards, or any other installment loans with more than 10 months left to repay should not exceed 33-36 percent of your gross income. Don't overextend your income, no matter what. Remember you'll have closing costs and other moving expenses. For more financial tips, log on to Geoproperty's sister site GeoFortune.com

- Know the area. Make sure you know the property status, neighborhood status and the seller's motivation. The more you know, the better armed you will be to negotiate.

- Keep in tune with your own requirements before entering a negotiation. Submit the offer in writing through your real estate agent. Remember you can use contingencies, like items you want included or upon approval of your mortgage. It's OK to be flexible there's always some give and take, but don't break.

• Remain objective. Even if it's your "dream house," don't let your emotions get in the way!

Doing your own research also will help you make the best decision. Just log on to Geoproperty.com or Geo Fortune.com today.

Whether you're buying your very first home, or moving for what seems like the hundredth time, purchasing a home can be a stressful experience. Being organized can really help make the process run smoothly and, hopefully, hassle-free. Here are some tips to help you get started from the organizational experts at 3M.

• Do Your Research. It may sound cliché but the more research you do prior to buying your home, the better off you'll be. Ask friends and family about their experiences purchasing a home, visit government agencies; Web sites (e.g. U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development) for background information, etc.

• Focus Your Search. Before you even look at any homes, narrow your search to one of two specific towns. Spend a Saturday walking through the main streets and driving through some neighborhoods to get a sense of whether you could picture yourself there. If you have children, research the school system and the after school activities available. This will help to prevent you from finding that "dream" home, only to realize that your commute to work will be too long or the schools are rated low.

• Pound the Pavement. Once you've focused your search to one or two towns, get out and look at as many homes as you can. Look through the paper on Sunday for open houses and mark off those that interest you. Most open houses only last a couple of hours and you may find that you have a lot that you'd like to see. Use Post-it flags to map out the order in which you'll visit each of the open houses beforehand - this will save you lots of time and prevent backtracking and additional travel time.

• Read Everything. Read before signing on the dotted line so that there are no surprises later on. If there's a section of the Offer Letter or purchase and sales agreement that you don't understand or would like adapt-

• Be Patient. Buying a home can be a trying process from finding the perfect house that you can't afford to not finding anything that you like at all. You can't force a house to become a home! Keep in mind that many people look for up to a year before finding the right home.

While buying a home is an exciting event, it can also be trying and time consuming. But it's all worth it in the end! For more information on Post-it flags and other 3M organizational products, visit 3M on the Web at www.3M.com/Post-it.

Renovate kitchen for functionality, safety

Large family gatherings have a way of migrating to the kitchen. It is often a home's focal point not only during social events, but on a nightly basis when food becomes the main attraction. So it's not surprising that in an independent study conducted for the American Society of Interior Designers (ASID), homeowners are enlarging and updating their kitchens to make them more functional and attractive.

"Aesthetics are important but designing a function and safe work area is our No. 1 goal in kitchen renovations," said Linda Kay DeMartini, ASID, a principal at Kay Designs in Burlingame, Calif.

Knowledge, education and training make ASID interior design consultants uniquely qualified.

To learn more information on finding the right interior design consultant, call ASID's Worldwide Referral Service at 1-800-775-ASID (2743), or visit the referral service's WebSite at www.interiors.org.
